Holiday season starts in Antioch

Despite the absence of a winter wonderland, Antioch will kick-off the holiday festivities, as it always does, in fine fashion. The holiday season embarks upon the village at 6:30 p.m., Nov. 27 — Santa comes to town. Santa will be the main attraction in Antioch's Christmas Parade, which starts in front of Antioch Community High School, and will proceed down Main Street to Orchard Street where the ceremonial tree lighting will take place.

After the lighting of the tree, Santa will then make his way to Toft and Orchard streets (under the water tower) and will be at the Enchanted Castle, meeting and greeting all good little boys and girls, until Dec. 23. Enchanted Castle hours are Monday through Friday, 5:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Visiting children will receive a free Christmas coloring book, courtesy of Antioch's Business Community, and a four-pack box of crayons, donated by the State Bank of Antioch and First Chicago—Antioch.

The children will talk with Santa himself and Mrs. Claus. As children whisper their secrets to Santa, a color photograph could capture that special moment. The color print will be mounted on a Christmas card for $4.

If, after visiting Santa, your child thinks of another important message for Santa, it could be mailed at Santa's Mail Box, located just outside the Enchanted Castle, or they could mail it to 100 Toy Land Rd., Antioch, IL 60002.

Also planned for children is a free movie at 11 a.m. at the Antioch Theatre on Lake Street on Nov. 28. The movie, "Fern Gully," is sponsored by the First National Bank of Antioch. Admission is two cans of food.

Christmas carriage rides will be available on Dec. 6, 13 and 20. Rides will be available from 1 to 4 p.m., weather permitting. The rides are sponsored by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry, with donations from other businesses.

Music groups ring in holidays

The Antioch Community High School Symphonic Band, Concert Band and choirs will perform their annual Christmas concert at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 3, in the high school auditorium.

The first half of the concert features the Freshman Treble Choir, Concert Choir and the Advanced Treble Choir. They will perform a number of traditional Christmas songs including "The Message of the Holly," "Marshmallow World," and "Jingle Bell Rock."

After a short intermission, the concert band, under the direction of Jim Peterson, will perform "Christmas Moods," with Concert Band II, followed by "Ballet Parisian." The Concert Band will close their portion of the concert with Tchaikovsky's holiday favorite "Nutcracker Suite."

The last group to perform is the Symphonic Band under the direction of John Olisar. They will perform "O' Tannenbaum," "Little Town of Bethlehem," and "Midnight Sleigh Ride." The concert will continue with "Star of Bethlehem" from the Twentieth Century Fox Film "Home Alone." To close the concert, Symphonic Band will perform "Festive Overture."

The auditorium will be decorated for the holiday and the public is invited to join the high school music department for its celebration of Christmas. The ACHS Color Guard will have a Christmas cookie sale to raise funds for the purchase of new uniforms. Tickets can be obtained from band and choir students, or can be purchased at the door. Donations are $3 for adults, $2 for students. Pre-school children are admitted free.

Villages clash over sewer rights

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

David and Goliath—Lindenhurst and Antioch—are preparing to do battle.

It is over rights to provide sewer service to what is now mostly farmland surrounding their villages. Called a facilities planning area (FPA), this will give the villages sole jurisdiction about the growth, density and future for decades to come.

Antioch last month applied to the Northern Illinois Plan Comm. (NIPC) for extension of its service area to 5,000 acres, mostly east of the village. Proposed is an area bounded by Deep Lake Rd. on the west, the Antioch Twp. line on the south, Rte. 45 on the east and the Wisconsin border on the north.

The Antioch-Lake Villa township border would give Antioch jurisdiction to within 800 yards of the newly-expanded Lindenhurst sewerage treatment plant.

Lake County At A Glance

CLC budget increases 5.08 percent this year

LAKE COUNTY — In a special night board session, the College of Lake County Board of Trustees conducted a public hearing on the 1992 estimated tax levy, which was approved later at the business portion of the regular board meeting.

The $21.97 million levy represents a 5.08 percent increase over the previous year's $21.12 million.

WTHS expels five students

GURNEE—Five Warren Township High School students have been expelled. The board of education took the action after a more than three-hour executive session, the board voted to expel five students. The students were all unnamed. There were two negative votes on two of the expulsions. Board members Millie Corder and Robert Kofler voted no while Donald Bradley, Richard Grabowski and Jan Brennan voted yes. The other three were 5-0 votes.

Wal-Mart shoppers to help PADS

VERNON HILLS — Shoppers who start the season at the Vernon Hills Wal-Mart, Friday morning, can rest assured that their dollars will be helping out Lake County's homeless. The Vernon Hills Wal-Mart at Townline Commons will donate a percentage of their profits, between 7 a.m. and 10 a.m., to PADS homeless shelter program. This is a yearly program for Wal-Mart. Last year, the total corporate donations added up to $1.9 million.

Senior wins medals at national games

LIBERTYVILLE — Irv Czocek of Libertyville, a wheelchair athlete, participated in four events and won medals in them. Czocek took silver medals in Billiards and Horseshoes, and took gold medals in Table Tennis and the Pentathlon in the 1992 National Senior Games, which were held in Ann Arbor, Michigan in August. The pentathlon consisted of basketball free throws, softball hitting and throwing, and a 50-yard dash. Czocek said it was the most demanding event.

Dist. 75 to discuss reorganization

MUNDELEIN—Residents of Dist. 75 will have a chance to shape the future of their schools as the Board of Education moves to adopt one of five proposals for dealing with growth in the district and implement that decision for the 1993-94 school year. The board will provide one hour for discussion, questions and input from the public before they begin the process of making a final decision, Monday, Nov. 30 at a 7:30 p.m. meeting in the Carl Sandburg Middle School.

Taylor loses battle after two-year fight

FOX LAKE — Jim Taylor ran a good race, but the shadow chasing him eventually catches up with all of us. Taylor, a Grant High School teacher and coach for 28 years, died Nov. 19 in Bad Steben, Germany, ending a two-year bout with cancer. A memorial service will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the high school. Taylor's colon cancer was diagnosed in August of 1990, and doctors gave him six months to live. Through surgery, chemotherapy and a positive attitude, he beat the prognosis. When conventional treatment no longer made a difference, however, he looked for a new strategy. After reading of Dr. Helmut Keller's success using plant material to energize the immune system, he and his wife went to Germany earlier this fall.

St. Matthew's new complex to open

HAWTHORN WOODS—The congregation of St. Matthew Lutheran Church on Old McHenry Road will open house to their new church complex, Sunday Nov. 29. The classic Gothic style church, with a seating capacity of over 700 has taken three years to complete at a cost of over $3.2 million. The new construction includes a new library for the school and church as well as additional offices and conference areas. The new church basement, highlighted by a terraced patio has the capacity to seat 800 people and includes a commercial sized kitchen.

'Sound' is 'Music' to 5-year-old ears

LAKE VILLA — Rachel Harrington, 5, a resident of Lake Villa and a kindergartener at B.J. Hooper Elementary School in Lindenhurst, won a spot, out of over 100 children auditioners, on the cast of the "Sound of Music," which currently is playing at Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre through January. Rachel plays Gretl, the youngest of seven children in the von Trapp family. Though this is her first production, Rachel is active in other functions, like Suzuki Piano Instruction, and Music Theory classes at David Adler Cultural Center in Libertyville, and ballet and tap dance lessons, and tumbling instruction at Kim Kalla's Studio of Dance in Lake Villa.

Police continue search for rapist

MUNDELEIN—Despite numerous phone calls from area residents, Mundelein police continue looking for leads in an early morning rape of a Lake Villa woman behind the Venture store at Rtes. 60/83. The incident occurred at approximately 6:30 a.m., Nov. 17, when the 28-year-old woman was attacked by the man as she returned to her unlocked vehicle after eating breakfast at Hardees restaurant. Police are searching for a male white, 5' 10," approximately 26 to 27 years of age, with collar-length blond hair. Persons with any information on the crime are asked to contact the Detective Division of the Mundelein Police Department at 949-3250.

THE LONGHORN
STEAK HOUSE
"CHAR-BROILED STEAKS"

Second best not enough at Longhorn Steak House

"Our goal is to be ranked the No. 1 steak house in the Midwest."

That lofty aspiration comes from Paul Gasior, half of the dynamic duo steering McHenry's Longhorn Steak House down the road to success.

In a year, Paul and partner Ron Skow have doubled the business at their beef and seafood emporium situated on Rte. 120 just 2 1/2 miles west of Rte. 12.

The reason, Paul said is "personal service and the quality of the product we purchase and sell. We buy the best meat available."

Paul and Ron have a lot of experience setting high standards and pleasing people. At Highland Park Country Club, Paul managed for 12 years, while Ron was the executive chef for 25 years.

"You'll see one or both of us while you're here," Paul said. "We don't have any fancy managers running around."

One of the house specialties is a 22-ounce, center-cut prime butt steak for two. It comes smothered in onions and mushrooms for $28.

The hearty-portion prime rib dinner is just $15.50 and includes soup, salad bar, potato and fresh-baked bread.

Two other favorite dinners are two eight-ounce, center-cut pork chops for $10.95 and a 16-ounce T-bone for $14.50. But there's more than beef at stake.

"We're doing a lot with fresh fish," Paul said. "Swordfish, grouper, yellow-fin tuna, Norwegian salmon..."

And if you're looking for fresh lake perch, the Longhorn is the place to be for the Friday night fish fry.

An all-you-can-eat country brunch is served Sundays. It includes a large array of fresh fruit, eggs and omelets made to order and old-fashioned biscuits and gravy for $6.95.

The Longhorn can accommodate those special occasions, too. No party is too big. Call or stop in to make arrangements.

The Longhorn Steak House is open seven days a week. Lunch is served Monday through Friday from 11:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. Dinner is served Monday through Saturday from 5 until 10. Sundays start with the country brunch from 9 a.m. until 1:30 p.m., while dinner goes from 3 until 8.

Reservations are recommended on the weekends, but if you don't have one, a brief wait in the Longhorn lounge can be pleasurable.

Realtor gives Christmas back to needy children

The Wish Tree needs you to be a Santa's helper

Oftentimes, amidst barging through department stores, purchasing gifts and wrapping presents, we forget about those who are as fortunate as we. Ribbons and bows are nice, but when you are a family who has nothing to put the bows and ribbons on, the Christmas shine turns dull.

The true meaning of Christmas is sharing, and the personification of sharing is evident at Realty World — Keith Johnson Realty in Antioch. Realty World and Santa's helpers are out and determined to make some children's Christmas a little brighter with the implementation of The Wish Tree.

The Wish Tree is trimmed with children's names who may not receive that special Christmas gift, due to monetary or other constraints. Each ornament includes a child's name and age. By being one of Santa's helpers, you can make that wish come true. A cash donation will be accepted in lieu of the gift.

This is the first year that The Wish Tree is available to Antioch-area residents. Approximately 180 names "decorate" the tree, and wait to be chosen by a "giving" type of person.

The children's names were provided by the Head Start Program and local organizations.

The Wish Tree was erected at Realty World — Keith Johnson Realty during the first week of November, according to Laura Labicki, Realtor, and reception by the community has been favorable.

"The sharing spirit is showing this year. People have taken approximately 60

From now until Dec. 15, you can become one of Santa's helpers and make a child's Christmas brighter.

names so far, but there are more than 100 children who still need a little help. Hopefully, all the names will be taken soon," Labicki said.

All gifts must be in the Realty World

— Keith Johnson Realty, Inc. office by Dec. 15. "It helps if the gifts are wrapped, but if that can't be done, it will be taken care of," Labicki added.

To be one of Santa's helpers, stop by the Realty World — Keith Johnson Realty, Inc. office and pick up an "ornament." Your generosity will make a child's holiday a little brighter, as well as make your heart a little bigger.

Help Wanted

The Village of Antioch is now accepting applications for future employment in the wastewater treatment area. Qualifications are: a Class I Wastewater Treatment License and experience with industrial pretreatment preferred. Applications can be obtained at the Village Hall, 874 Main St. For more information, contact Mike Ruxton, Superintendent of Sewer and Water, at 395-1000.

Centennial book

The Lakes Region Historical Society announces the arrival of the second and final printing of the Centennial book, "Antioch, Illinois, A Pictorial History 1892-1992." The first printing was completely sold out and only 400 books left from the second printing. These books would make excellent Christmas presents. Call Ainsley at 356-8797 for more information or to reserve a copy.

plans would definitely limit our growth and ability to control our future," he said.

At a meeting Nov. 12 with the Antioch village board, Baumunk felt he had an understanding with Antioch Mayor Robert Wilton. "But it seems other members of the board have different ideas," he said about the board's refusal to modify its plans or negotiate.

"There seems to be no room for further dialogue and I am really disappointed," the Lindenhurst

Left with no alternative, Baumunk has asked NIPC for a 60-90 day deferral on Antioch's request. This week he wrote a two-page, legal size letter to village residents explaining the implication of the feud. It went to 2,600 homes.

He will send a battery of village personnel to a Wednesday, Dec. 2, meeting in downtown Chicago to challenge Antioch's request. "What take exception to is spending village tax money like this when it really is not necessary," he said of the upcoming legal and engineering costs plus those that may occur beyond Dec. 2.

"The village board and myself will vigorously defend our interests," the mayor wrote residents this week. "To enjoy future property tax relief we must develop wisely and expand our commercial tax base.

"To do this we must preserve our ability to annex property to the north and east and retain our exclusive right to furnish this area with sewers.

"We hope to avoid the cost of litigation and reach a settlement. Failing that, we will move on and take whatever steps are necessary to protect our village and the way of life each of you expected when choosing Lindenhurst as your home.

"Our goal is not to add significant growth in Lindenhurst, but to insure the type of growth that will benefit our community. If we allow other communities to encroach into our planning area, build their own sewer treatment facilities and annex land to our borders, we will be unable to control this growth.

"We will be faced with high-density housing that will impact our government services, our roads, our schools, our tax base and our way of life," the mayor wrote.

To serve its expanded service area, Antioch proposes building a new sewerage treatment plant on Rte. 45 between Miller Rd. and Rte. 173. Baumunk said "this intrudes on the area capable of being

'The village board and myself will vigorously defend our interests.'

— Mayor Robert Wilton

served by the newly-expanded Lindenhurst treatment plant."

Also proposed by the village are two municipal spray irrigation systems—one north of Rte. 173, one south of the same highway. "This is a controversial method of disposing of human waste by spraying it on available open space during warm-weather months," the mayor said. "Waste generated during cold weather is stored in lagoons, risking ground water contamination."

Further jeopardizing Lindenhurst's position are plans by Lake County for a new treatment facility in Old Mill Creek. It would serve the surrounding undeveloped area and a new plant planned by Abbott Labs of North Chicago. "Lindenhurst was making excellent progress with Abbott to deliver sanitary sewer service to their new facility at zero cost to village residents," Baumunk said.

The mayor's letter asks residents to call state Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion), state Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) and County Board Chairman Robert Depke of nearby Warren Twp.

He said an appeal is being made to Fox Lake, which operates a regional sanitary treatment plant for the county, to join the challenge to Antioch.

Spelling bloopers burst confident, inflated ego

My spelling bloopers are alive and well! In case anyone needs reminding, I am a school board member at Grass Lake School. I was faced with the task of filling out a survey form in the line of duty. There were six questions posed and the word "prerogative" appeared in one of the questions. When I saw it in print I thought "my goodness" this form was compiled by a very educated individual, yet the word "perogative" is misspelled. I walked to my loyal computer with confidence, in an effort to respond to the survey in style.

I restated each question and then entered my responses to them. When I came to what I thought was the misspelled word "prerogative" I corrected it to read "perogative" and secretly thought I would teach this educated person the correct spelling of the word, and wouldn't he be impressed!

The next day (after I had already turned in my completed survey) I decided to look up the word in the dictionary. I could not find it anywhere. I checked "perogative," "preogative," "parogative," "purogative" and "perrogative" but the word was nowhere to be found (or so I thought).

My only consolation is by now I called a half dozen of my friends and they couldn't find it either. Finally I kept searching under the "pre" section and there it was spelled exactly as it had been on the original survey "prerogative!" Ooops!

Theatre time

The next scheduled performance during the 32nd season of the PM&L Theatre in Antioch is "A Christmas Carol" by Charles Dickens and adapted for the stage by Lou Jones.

Scheduled performances are Dec. 4, 5, 6, 11, 12, 13, 18, 19 and 20, just in time to put everyone in the Christmas spirit. Evening performances are at 8 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays and Sunday matinees at 2:30 p.m. Seating is limited. Reservations can be made by calling 395-3055.

Grass Lake School

Congratulations are in order for two of Grass Lake's finest, Jane Bolton and Steve Bartlett, for successfully completing the 26-mile Chicago Marathon. They completed the race in just over four hours.

Once again the Chess Club fun and competitions have begun at Grass Lake School under the leadership of Dave Tomei.

The "taffy apple sale" was very successful thanks to Pam and John Cardis and their parent team of workers.

Finally, do not miss the annual Grass Lake School PTO "Breakfast with Santa" on Dec. 6 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Zachary/Zachery?

The decision on how to spell little Zachary Garcia's

Hometown Goodies

LIZ SCHMEHL

name was made by his parents at the time of his birth. However, keeping in line with my terrific spelling ability, I have been known to log it in as "Zachery" on his various project papers.

Mrs. Garcia brought this misspelling to my attention and most of the time I "hit it lucky" and spell it correctly. Once again, the Zachery misspelling appeared at the top of one of his papers. Once again his sweet, patient mom mentioned it to Miss Marie. This time Miss Marie decided to have some fun with the situation and alerted Mrs. Garcia to her scheme.

She ascertained who had written his name atop his paper that particular day and began to tease Miss JoAnne for doing it incorrectly. Miss JoAnne took it in her stride, led Miss Marie to the attendance sheet, where she had copied it from (the names on the sheet are entered by Miss Marie), and derived a great deal of pleasure out of showing her she had spelled it as Zachery on the sheet. Ooops! Hope you enjoyed reading this, Mrs. Garcia, and just maybe we will be able to spell Zachary's name correctly for this day forth. Yes, no? Only time will tell.

Mishap

Little four-year-old Lauren Kluth got her hands crushed under a fallen window. The end result was two broken thumbs and the loss of a few fingernails. Mom said she faced her emergency room experience like a trooper.

However, the frequent changing of the band-aids to prevent infection from setting in frightens her a bit.

Hang in there, sweetie, and soon your thumbs will be as good as new and your nails as pretty as ever. We are proud of you.

Board meeting

The Nov. 10 Grass Lake Board meeting was well attended. The board held the following discussions and/or approved the following actions—approved the accounts payable and treasurer's report; information was received concerning the meeting of the playground committee; the board approved snow removal bid, the estimated tax levy and the resolution to "Reinvest in America," the date of Dec. 8 was set for the public hearing on the tax levy and the board review the 1992 school report card.

The next regular meeting of the Grass Lake School Board of Education is scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 8 at 7 p.m. in the Media Center.

Parade time

Don't forget that Santa Claus will be arriving Nov. 27 at 6:30 p.m. as part of the Thanksgiving/Christmas parade.

The parade marks the official opening of the Christmas shopping season in Antioch and the opening of Santa's Enchanted Castle.

The castle hours will be Monday through Friday from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The children will talk with Santa himself and even get to visit with Mrs. Clause.

As your child whispers his/her secrets to Santa, a color photograph could capture the special moment. The photograph is available for $4.

The movie "Fern Gully" will be shown at 11 a.m. on Nov. 28 at the Antioch Theater. Admission to the movie will be two cans of food to be donated to the needy.

Memory helper

Picture this, the Lizard, Hubby Jim, and son Jimmy in the Prime Time Video Store in Eagle River trying to decide on a movie to rent. Also in the store was a mother and daughter. My husband suggested we rent Batman II.

I said (very openly) "Are you nuts? You didn't even like Batman II!"

The young mother chimed in and informed us that the sequel was even worse. Then I noticed a movie that someone told me was very good "Prince of Tides" and I brought it to my husband's attention. However, our son reminded us we wanted to see "My Cousin Vinny" so we located it and brought it up to the counter.

Meanwhile, Jim Jr. went off to pick out a Nintendo tape and hubby and I meandered back to the movie section for a second look. Now remember this, I am as senile and forgetful as the day is long.

If I do not write my "immediate" thoughts down on paper they quickly become gone and lost forever. I reminded my husband there was another movie I wanted but for the life of me I could not remember its title. I started scanning the shelves for the movie that had caught my attention earlier and I was talking out loud while doing so (which is another strange habit of mine—talking to myself). I guess I kept saying "now what was that other movie I wanted to see?"

The woman, who critiqued Batman for us, responded with "Prince of Tides!" I thanked her for her help and then asked her what shelf it was on. She instantly pointed it out. I grabbed it, brought it up to the counter and secretly thought—another story for the column, provided, of course, I would remember to do so—and it looks like I did!

Gossman places among state's top skiers at Big Powderhorn

A Big Powderhorn, Mich. skier has placed among Illinois' top Budweiser Challenge NASTAR racers, according to Commissioner Bob Beattie. Ron Gossman of Antioch was ranked sixth in the 30 to 39 year-old category, as part of the first ever Budweiser All-Stars rankings program.

The All-Stars honors the top men and women in all 50 states across the country. Skiers were ranked in each NASTAR age group, based on their single best handicap of the 1991-92 season. Racing at Big Powderhorn, Gossman's best handicap was a seven, which means he was just 7 percent behind the time posted by the NASTAR Pacesetter, U.S. Olympia Matt Grosjean.

Beattie, a former coach of the U.S. Olympic Ski Team, says the winners should be proud of their accomplishments. "With more than 300,000 races last year, competition was tough. We have racers from all over the United States, and these really are the best," he said.

State winners receive awards and prizes, and are listed on special rankings posters distributed nationwide. First place winners also receive a pair of Suncloud or Black Diamond sunglasses.

NASTAR is celebrating its 24th anniversary as the world's largest recreational ski racing program.

Student of the month

Ervin Otankis has been selected Antioch Community High School's Student of the Month for October. The student of the month program, sponsored by the Bank of Waukegan, Antioch facility, is based on scholarship, leadership, character, and service to the school and community. Otankis was nominated by Sharon Peterson of the Science Department. Otankis was selected due to his outstanding work ethic, impeccable character and friendly manner. Fellow students respect and admire his efforts in the Biology lab. Pictured with Otankis are Peterson and Bill Battistone of the Bank of Waukegan.

Antioch Christian Women's Club sees 'What's Inside That Counts'

The Antioch Christian Women's Club will have its luncheon from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m., Dec. 10 at Hogan's Restaurant at 40150 N. Rte. 59 in Antioch.

Club members will be invited to "A Garland of Gifts," presenting 20 quick gifts you can make. Wendy Paulsen will be sharing her gift of music with the club, also. The speaker topic will be "It's What's Inside That Counts," by Elizabeth Lynde from Crystal Lake.

Free nursery is provided for children 10 and younger. To make reservations, call Linda at 680-3553, or Renee at 395-1281 by Dec. 3. Reservations must be honored, canceled or used by a friend.

Upper Grade School upcoming events

Mid-Term Notices

Mid-term notices will be mailed to parents of those students who are not performing satisfactorily. The notices will be in the mail no later than Nov. 27 or 28. Please contact the teachers at school should you need further information or wish to set up a conference.

Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving vacation will begin Nov. 25 and end Nov. 29. Students will be dismissed approximately one hour early on Nov. 25. Christmas vacation will begin Dec. 19 and end Jan. 3. Students will be dismissed at 1:40 p.m., Dec. 18.

Bad Weather

Parents are reminded that they should not call the school for information on potential school closings. Parents are urged to listen to 1220 AM WKRS or 96.6 FM WKZN for closings. Calling school only ties up the phone lines and slows important school communications to staff members and other school district personnel.

Market Day

Children will no longer be bringing Market Day forms home from the Upper Grade School. If forms are needed, parents names can be placed on the mailing list. To order this month or to be added to the mailing list, call 395-7276.

Operation Snowflake builds kid's skills for healthy living

Kids helping kids was the theme of an ongoing awareness and prevention program where students shared their concerns on a variety of issues ranging from peer pressure to drugs and other adolescent concerns.

Operation Snowflake is an ongoing program based on the belief that every child has the ability to make positive healthy decisions about their lives when they are given up-to-date factual information and allowed to develop the skills that are necessary to help them understand themselves and the world around them.

Throughout the day-long seminar held at Antioch Upper Grade School, Nov. 14, the students participated in games, listened to speakers and had the opportunity to meet new people, make new friends and learn more about good choices and how to enjoy life.

Topics were presented by several main speakers and were followed by small group sessions which were co-led by adult and teen facilitators. Speakers for the day were Bob Lecce, Explosonic Rockers, Barbara Wiegand and Antioch High School students.

The Operation Snowflake experience is similar to Operation Snowball at the high school level. Both are prevention programs whose goals are to help today's youth feel secure about their decision to remain drug-free.

Students from all the middle schools feeding into Antioch High School were invited to attend the day-long seminar.

Several area business contributed support for the seminar. They included: Dairy Queen of Antioch, Awards by Kaydan, VFW Sequoit Post #4551, Antioch Drug and Alcohol Task Force, Rotary Club, Lions Club of Antioch, First National Bank of Antioch, Jack's Four Squires, Piggly Wiggly, Wal-Mart, Mike Pasiewicz A-1 Insurance, Barbara Kempher, Eagle Foods, Domino's Pizza, Pizza Hut, Bank of Waukegan, Rosati's Pizza, The Advertiser, Coca-Cola, Antioch News-Reporter, Walgreens, Sam's Club, Antioch Jaycees, Mr. Roger Shule-artwork, State's Attorney Office-Michael Waller, Antioch Pizza, Lake Villa PTO, Antioch Senior center, McDonald's, Antioch Family Sports Center, TM-Screen Specialties- T-shirts, and Ted Jozefiak-folder labels.

Pleviak parents group still feels neglected by board

by CLAUDIA M. LENART
Lakeland Newspapers

A group of parents at Pleviak School in Lake Villa continues to claim they are being left out of the decision-making process to build an addition to the school.

"(The board) is not interested in what the public wants. They have their own agenda," said Tom Yingling, one of the parents who was involved in working to pass a $2.7 million referendum last March.

However, Dr. Joan Raymond, District 41 interim superintendent, said the board has attempted to be available to the parents.

"It's not that (board members) haven't given answers. It's that (the parents group) doesn't like the answers," said Raymond.

The dispute stems from information that was given to the referendum committee during the campaign.

During that time the board had plans to add 13 rooms. But when the final plans were drawn up in July, it was discovered that a 13-room addition would not fit on the site.

Raymond said she believes it was a mistake to be so precise with a figure, 13, during the campaign. "Usually what is done is that you come in with as good of an estimate as you can," said Raymond. "The district can't afford to hire an architect before you get the money."

Raymond said when board members discovered their mistake they went back to the people and explained the situation and the change in plans.

Current plans call for an addition of seven new classrooms and a multi-purpose room. The administrative office would also be converted into four classrooms for a total of 12 additional rooms. Administration would be moved to a mobile room until another site could be found.

"The board has spent endless hours. They have studied the plans over and over. I give them an enormous amount of credit," said Raymond. "I don't know what more the board can do."

"We feel they are moving too fast. We know they need an addition eventually, but there's no hurry," said Yingling.

Plays percussion

Kym Hays was selected to play percussion with the Iowa All-State Band. Selection to this band was through auditions held across Iowa. The Iowa All-State Band performed on Nov. 21 at the Hilton Coliseum at Iowa State Univ. in Ames, Iowa. Kym is a senior at Red Oak Community High School in Red Oak, Iowa and is the daughter of Steve and Cindee (Pedersen) Hays. Kym is also the granddaughter of Bob and Eileen Pedersen of Antioch.

Holbo honored

Antioch Exchange Club announced the winner of the November Student of the Month Award is Lindenhurst resident, Carrie Holbo.

Holbo was honored for her activities in the community and school which include the National Honor Society and her experiences as a Rotary Exchange Student in South Africa last year.

Holbo received a framed certificate and a check for $50 to help with activities or college application expenses.

Foundation for excellence

Foundation contributes in many ways to success of College of Lake County.

One reason why College of Lake County is one of the best community colleges in the nation and getting better all the time is the ever growing participation of the general public in fund raising beyond real estate taxes.

This is accomplished through the College of Lake County Foundation, a conduit for contributions, grants and a variety of gifts. Last year, 176 students were able to attend CLC because they received Foundation scholarships.

CLC looks upon supporters of Foundation endeavors as special friends and "stockholders." Besides scholarships, the Foundation also supports an art gallery, now 11 years old, cultural activities and community ventures designed to benefit students.

Another way the CLC Foundation helps is inviting proposals from faculty and staff for unique and innovative projects that can't be funded through the normal college budget. Last year nine projects were selected for funding.

Now in its second quarter century, College of Lake County is a better institution of higher learning because of the support of the CLC Foundation. A cross section of Lake County citizens serves as Foundation directors. We salute them.

Transportation future

Village officials need to put more pressure on Springfield delegates to get road and rail improvements.

A shifting economy is playing to improved suburban transportation. Gayle M. Franzen, chairman of the Regional Transportation Authority, underscored that fact of life when he emphasized in a Lake County address that the collar county tax base is growing and the Chicago tax base is declining.

Franzen didn't elaborate on the political and social ramifications of the shifting tax base, but the simple fact is that transportation improvements, both transit and highway, follow money.

The RTA chief is pitching for public transportation when he speaks, of course, but he emphasized another transportation fact of life. You get what you want, or more correctly, you get what you lobby for. Franzen again was talking about public transportation, but his observation that suburban officials should be putting more pressure on their representatives in the General Assembly applies to highways as well.

Lincolnshire officials have stalled modernization of Rte. 22 to four-lanes single-handedly for more than 10 years. The roadblock to extension of Rte. 53 maintained by the Long Grove village board for 25 years is legendary. Officials in neighboring villages simply haven't been putting enough pressure on Lake County's Springfield delegation to get these two projects going. By the same token, rail commuting on the Wisconsin Central is beginning to look like a reality because the mayors and their councils in Buffalo Grove, Vernon Hills, Mundelein, Libertyville, Grayslake and farther north villages have mounted a united front in support of a new rail commute.

Franzen's words of wisdom ought to be heeded. Transportation improvements follow the money. Roads and rails follow political pressure. That's the way it works.

Gambling? ho, hum!

More at stake in County Board riverboat casino vote than merely a new variety of gambling.

The great Riverboat Casino Chase proved once again what a diverse community Lake County is, how widely divergent the viewpoints are and the myriad chasms separating a rainbow spectrum of constituencies.

At issue was whether the County Board should grant approval to a group of out-of-state investors to establish two riverboat casinos on the Fox River near Lake Barrington on property owned by the Lake County Forest Preserve. Now there's a proposition for world class debate if there ever was one. County Board watchers weren't disappointed.

The question passed only 11-9. Considering the fact that Lake County has only a slim chance of landing the single state riverboat casino license available, an unusual amount of soul searching went into consideration of the question that was voted upon with less than 48 hours of study by all but board insiders.

The issue at hand was whether to permit more gambling in a state, county and locale already saturated with all forms of gambling. So morality wasn't all that much of a consideration. Although debaters wouldn't admit it, much bigger questions involved snobbery, environmental impact, election of a new chairman, election of a new Forest Preserve president, expanding government, economic enhancement, tax relief, propriety of the Forest Preserve getting involved in gambling, ethics, old-fashioned grandstanding and, above all, raw, naked political power. We're convinced that only a handful of County Board members voted directly on the question of more gambling.

Political observers, including editorialists, love to analyze votes like the Great Riverboat Casino Chase and then draw conclusions. The only conclusion we can draw is that gambling was only part of the overall maneuvering, a small part. There are so many agendas on the Lake County Board no one can conclude anything significant from the riverboat vote.

For the record, here's how the vote broke down:

Favor---Robert Depke, Robert Buhai, Colin McRae, Andrea Moore, Eleanor Rostron, Edward Fojtik, Jim Fields, Deloris Axelrod, Robert Grever, Roberta O'Reilly and James Dolan.

Against---Bertha Ogrin, Robert Neal, Deborah Halas, Audrey Nixon, Stanley Pekol, Larry Leafblad, Jim LaBelle, Carol Calabresa and Suzi Schmidt.

Viewpoint

Stalled truck sparks spirit of holidays

by BILL SCHROEDER

A bread truck stalled in the middle of a busy intersection during morning crunch time. By coincidence, a sheriff's patrol was in the stream of eastbound traffic and immediately signaled trouble with a revolving red emergency light.

Two young men popped out of their cars and put their shoulders to the truck. Seconds later a third youth bolted from his car, ran across the intersection, and began shoving the balky, heavy-laden vehicle.

From my vantage point about five cars back, I watched three good Samaritans laboring together to get the delivery van sidelined. One pusher wore blue jeans and had his stringy blonde hair bunched under a red bandanna. His helper with neatly combed black hair had a mustache depicting Hispanic heritage. The third young man had crewcut and was dressed in a dark business suit.

The trio laughed and joked as they pushed the truck through the intersection. By the time the driver got out and gratefully tossed out loaves of bread, the business-type was back in his car and pulling away.

As the morning rush hour vignette unfolded, not so unusual in itself, I wondered what kind of social statement was being made by three young men from such obviously different backgrounds, voluntarily working together to extricate several dozen anonymous motorists from a potentially nasty snarl. Did they see the same thing I saw? Things happened so quickly the officer didn't even have to get out of his squad car.

The plaintive plea coming out of the Los Angeles riots came to mind, "Can't we get along?" Sure we can. If in time of need, why not all the time? Three volunteers seized the moment to do good for strangers without thought of reward.

I'll long remember the trio of truck pushers. The memory is setting the stage for warm holiday feelings and gratitude at Thanksgiving time for selfless, giving citizens. I hope the three helpful motorists read this so they know they were appreciated.

HELPING OTHERS---Dr. Scott G. Reiser used his imagination and his professional skill to help others during Thanksgiving. The Round Lake Beach chiropractor offered a complimentary examination and X-ray to new patients who brought in a minimum of five cans of food or dry packaged goods that will be distributed to needy families during the holidays. Mighty nice gesture!

MIDDLE GROUND---Congressman John Porter (R-10th) has come up with a telling compromise in the increasing debate for term limitation. Porter is urging House Republicans to back a change in House rules to limit members to six years of service as the chair of a committee or subcommittee. The veteran North Shore lawmaker says this reform would take the weight out of seniority and have much the same effect as overall term limitation. The change could be adopted without amending the Constitution. Porter has the support of House GOP Leader Bob Michel. An interesting sidelight of the Porter plan is the fact that a lot of incoming freshman legislators ran on term limitation planks. Neat idea.

END FREE COFFEE---Vern S. Holmes, a retired engineer who plans to run for a seat on the Antioch High School next year, says one of his planks is going to be ending the practice of providing teachers free coffee which he discovered costs taxpayers $3,400 per year. Holmes also is targeting a faculty and board travel budget for extinction. That item annually costs the public $28,600, according to Holmes. Practically every school budget has wasteful items like the free coffee and travel stipends, according to Holmes.

BINGO SHRINKING---Ever since tribal bingo games were approved in Milwaukee, Lake County church, veterans and service club-sponsored bingo revenues have receded from five to 10 percent, reports Brad Muse. Local games can't compete with big stakes winnings offered by native Americans who are in the gambling business in a big way. One bingo game in Sudsville regularly offers new cars and winnings up of $10,000. Muse is a long-time worker at the Fox Lake Lions Club games that years ago used to attract busloads of Wisconsin players before the tribes got into gaming.

LANDMARK---Now that White Castle has opened on Grand Ave., Gurnee, can it be said that the urbanization of Lake County is complete? White Castle hamburger cultists can get the real thing instead of settling for frozen imitations at the supermarket or driving to Windy City outlets. My introduction to White Castle was for ice cream cones ago while visiting cousins in Chicago. Did those onion-smothered mini-burgers come later to White Castle? Maybe someone out there can help?

ONE MAN'S FAMILY---Callie, our rambunctious German shepherd pup whose antics get chronicled here from time to time, seems to be developing a fan club. A secret admirer dropped off a box of dog yummys the other day. Only Callie doesn't eat the treats. She plays with the cookies and then hides them. Got to wonder about that dog. And the lady of the house and your scribe thought Callie was the star of her obedience class!

Do we need riverboat gambling?

THE BIG GAMBLE

Some people, mostly the politicians, have high hopes of bringing riverboat gambling to Lake County. Last week our Forest Preserve Board hurriedly approved use of the Fox River Forest Preserve near Barrington for not one, but two, floating casinos.

Our elected reps sitting in Waukegan see this as one way to bring the county more money for roads and other amenities.

When the topic of traffic gridlock on narrow Roberts Rd., near the preserve, was broached, County Board Chairman Robert Depke said "You may not be able to trust the state (to do anything), but you can trust the county."

You know what the lady mayor, Nancy Smith, of Lake Barrington, had the effrontery to say? "I trust the county as far as I can throw it." Afterwards, she told me: "I've been around too long (six years as mayor) to trust any County Board before or now. I couldn't take Depke's comment lying down. What did he want me to do, roll over and kiss his ring?"

What's the chances of having games of chance here? Elgin wants the last remaining state riverboat gaming permit. So does West Dundee, Moline and Sauget, near St. Louis.

"At this point the best thing you can say about possible riverboat gambling in Lake County, said Island Lake Trustee Fred Bigham, "is that it's a gamble."

FOREST POLITICS

A battle is shaping up for the presidency of the Lake County Forest Preserve board. We're sending the current president, Andrea Moore, to Springfield as the new state rep. in the new 61st Dist.

Robert Buhai of Highland Park is prominently mentioned. A Democrat in Republican country, he is being supported by the independent GOP faction on the board. Joining them are environmentalists who see Buhai as the best chance of restoring some of the planned purchases axed in the early days of (County Board Chairman) Robert Depke's steamroller. Colin McRae, Mundelein's gift to the County Board, is Depke's pick for the job. "He might be Depke's boy, but no way is he presidential material," said a female member of the board.

Bob Neal, the Wadsworth wonder, is promoting himself. Few people take him seriously. "He just wants to pad his resume," said the same female. That will make him look good when it comes time to appoint a successor to state Sen. Adeline Geo Karis (R-Zion) of the 31st Dist. when she retires.

WAUCONDA POLITICS

People in Wauconda Twp. take their politics serious, especially the politicians.

Jim Keagle, Wauconda mayor the past four years, has thrown his hat into the ring for supervisor. His slate includes retiring Supv. Jerry Beyer. Joining them are all sitting township officials except one trustee.

Fred Bigham, the township GOP chairman, says "I may announce this week." He's been making noises for the past month, lining up support and money.

Newest entry is Lou Mercieri, owner of Wauconda Video, and the well-liked past president of the Chamber of Commerce. His slate? It's being worked on. Mentioned as possible road commission is Bob Pruschniak, owner of a septic tank business, and Jeanette Bieze, wife of famed politico Howard Bieze, for assessor. Mercieri says he won't name any names until after the holidays.

Bieze says he's not involved in this year's township race. He claims too many friends among the candidates. After last spring's unsuccessful race for the County Board, he wants to sit this one out. "Just say I'm in the back of the bus."

OVERHEARD/SEEN

WAUCONDA—Why did Robert Neal of Wadsworth and Jim LaBelle of Zion cast votes last week against allowing riverboat gaming at the Fox River Forest Preserve? Could it be because their campaign contributors include one of the biggest names in Illinois horse racing?

WAUCONDA—Howard Bieze is a big man in township politics. He is probably best known for the August Cornfest he holds at his farm. A state employee at a Waukegan facility, he could probably retire any time, but he won't. "That's for old people. Besides, I then wouldn't have anything to do."

by JOE SOULAK

LAKE BARRINGTON

Mayor Nancy Smith says the village will "fight with all its might" an attempt to bring riverboat gambling to the Fox River Forest Preserve. Thirteen of the property's 245 acres are in the village. "We'll file suit, oppose the Forest Preserve and treat it just like any other developer," said the feisty female. WAUCONDA—Al Salvi, our new state representative in the equally-new 52nd Dist., has picked this west Lake County community as the center of his political domain. His district office will be there. So will his home, which is now being built just outside of town.

LIBERTYVILLE—Martin Paulsen has been re-elected president of the Lake County Board of Health. He and County Board member Colin McRae of Mundelein engineered the firing of long-term Director Steven Potsic almost one year ago. One of the other hats he wears is manager of the Parkway restaurant in Waukegan. Another is an employee of the Libertyville Twp. assessor's office. He's said to be eyeing the job of Assessor William Swanson should he ever retire.

Causes of death

AIDS is the 11th leading cause of death among Americans. But among younger Americans, it ranks much higher. Here are leading causes of death for 1989, the most recent year for which they are broken down by age group:

Educator's preview tropical rainforests at Botanic garden

Educators are invited to an exclusive preview of the Smithsonian Institution's Traveling Exhibition Service (SITES) exhibit "Tropical Rainforests: A Disappearing Treasure." The preview will be from 4 to 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Jan. 5 in the Education Center of the Chicago Botanic Garden.

The exhibit opens Jan. 4, 1993.

Educators can tour the exhibit which focuses on the beauty of the tropical rainforest, its people and the many issues related to the disappearance of this fragile ecosystem. The preview is free. To make reservations call Anne Fasano at 835-8322. Reservations are required by Thursday, Dec. 10.

As the only public garden hosting this exhibit, the Botanic Garden has the unique opportunity to make the tropical rainforest exhibit come alive for students of all ages. The preview will give educators the chance to view this special exhibit.

Trained docents will be available to highlight school programs and to answer questions.

Covering seven percent of the earth's surface, the tropical rainforest is home to more plant and animal species than any other habitat. The existence of these species, as well as the indigenous rainforest people, are being threatened as the rainforest is being destroyed at the rate of one football field per second. "Tropical Rainforests:

A Disappearing Treasure," organized by the Smithsonian Institution's Traveling Exhibition Service (SITES), will be at the Chicago Botanic Garden from Jan. 4 through March 28, 1993. The exhibit will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and until 8 p.m. every Thursday. Admission to the exhibit is $2 for adults $1.25 for senior citizens and members of the Chicago Horticultural Society and $1 for children under 16.

Botanic garden receives major grant

The Collaborative Outreach Education (CORE) program at the Chicago Botanic Garden has received a $200,000 grant from Northfield-based Kraft General Foods. The CORE program is a cooperative venture between the Chicago Botanic Garden and the Chicago Public School system to provide hands-on plant science curriculum to students in inner city schools throughout Chicago.

"Kraft General Foods felt that CORE has established a fine reputation for hands-on science and nutrition programs. We want to see the work continue and expand," says Joyce Grant, community affairs manager.

The year-round program is coordinated by Botanic Garden staff which visits selected inner city schools monthly with plant science lessons and projects. During spring and summer, the children visit the Botanic Garden weekly to garden in their own vegetable plots at the Children's Vegetable Garden. Each school class, with volunteers and staff, plan, plant, weed and harvest their plot.

"A goal of the program is to bring together schools, parents and the community to significantly improve science and nutrition education for kindergarten through sixth grade students from low-income districts in Chicago's public schools," says Alan Rossman, Ph.D., manager of education for the Chicago Botanic Garden.

CORE focuses on the study of plants and their role in nutrition, involving students from the initial planning of the garden to planting seeds to bringing home food harvested from the garden.

The objectives stress scientific concepts related to plants and their role in nutrition, better scientific literacy, improving teachers' fluency with hands-on teaching, getting the local community involved.

Still time to repair lawns for next spring

Fall is the best time to improve the lawn because autumn's above average rainfall and moderate temperatures provide perfect conditions for germinating grass seed. The plants will become established over the winter, yielding a beautiful lawn come spring.

Poor soil is the most common culprit for lackluster lawns. That is why so many solutions focus on improving the grass' growing medium with organic matter, such as Canadian Sphagnum Peat Moss. This soil amendment retains up to 20 times its weight in water, stores nutrients, binds sand, aerates clay and creates a perfect environment in which grass will flourish.

Lackluster lawn—Poor soil is a likely cause. This is especially true in housing developments where sod is laid on a thin layer of top soil over foundation clay or sandy soil. The main weakness of lawn soils that are predominantly sand or clay is a shortage of organic material. Without this, soil can't hold water and nutrients to make it available to grass roots. Top dressing is the solution.

Top dressing consists of Canadian Peat, vermiculite and lawn foods, applied just before the lawn needs to be cut. This treatment improves the quality of the lawn by providing it with a porous and water-retentive growth medium where grass can thrive.

In a wheelbarrow, mix Canadian Peat and medium-grade vermiculite on a three-to-one basis. Lawn food can be added as well. Spread a quarter-to-a-half-inch of the top dressing over the lawn. Set the mower blades at two inches to work the Canadian Peat-vermiculite mixture down among the grass plants. Repeat this top dressing treatment in spring.

Compacted turf—Aerating is the solution for turf that has been compacted by heavy traffic from children playing and outdoor entertaining. Rent a power aerator from the local lawn and garden center to pull plugs out of the soil, allowing the air and water to reach grass roots. You may wish to overseed after aerating.

Thatch build-up—When the grass seems to be choking, the cause is probably thatch. Thatch is caused by a layer of living and dead grass stems and roots that impede the penetration of water, nutrients, air and light. Thatch should be removed every couple of years by using a hand rake or rented power dethatcher so that new grass seed can take hold and moisture, air and sunshine can reach the soil. Overseed the area after dethatching.

Small problems—Lawn problems confined to areas totaling less than 25 percent of the yard can be eradicated by spot patching. Just loosen the soil in the affected area to a depth of six inches (throw the top two inches away if the problem stems from dog urine), spread a two-inch layer of Canadian Peat over the spot, top with a thin layer of starter fertilizer, and work the mixture into the soil.

Next, reseed at a concentration of eight to 10 seeds per square inch, raking the seeds in lightly so they are just barely covered, and top dress with a quarter inch of Canadian Peat. Be sure to keep the seeds moist until they germinate.

Widespread problems—Start from scratch if more than 25 percent of the lawn is in poor condition. Begin by spreading a one-inch layer of Canadian Peat over the entire area. Use a rototiller to slice into the soil to loosen dead grass and thatch while mixing in the Canadian Peat, creating a new, well-conditioned seed bed. Broadcast a high quality seed over the entire area, rake in lightly, and roll. Finish with a 5-5-5 fertilizer to encourage vigorous new seedlings.

Invasion of weeds—If the lawn has been completely overtaken by crabgrass and weeds, it may be best to kill off everything with contact herbicide. Wait three days after use and follow the steps above to completely overhaul the lawn.

Make Sure It's American

I'm calling from Round Lake Beach. I just read about the city seeking a new car dealership. Let's hope that the mayor and the village board does two things. Make sure it's an American car that's sold there, and none of this foreign stuff. I also hope that they put this in an area where the money will go to our schools and not Grayslake Schools, just like the Mallard Creek area.

I'm Single, Too

I'm calling for single woman in Grayslake. I'm in the same kind of situation you are and would be interested in finding single people. If you're serious about it, you could run an ad in the personal section of the paper and maybe we could get together and get something started.

Bags Are Expensive

Why can't we burn leaves like other towns. I am a senior and I can tell you how hard it is to buy yard bags, which aren't cheap. I bag 35 bags of leaves. I get a lot of leaves from my neighbors' yard on both sides when the wind blows north or south. I also get backaches.

At Least You're Working

This is in response to "Wise up, Diners." Listen, lady. You should be grateful for the tip you do get, no matter if they're dining alone or not. You're not going to be nice to somebody just because they have a big group of people. There's a lot of people out there who don't work. I'm from Fox Lake.

Disbanding 911?

I would like some clarification on the Lipservice article about 911 disbanding. I certainly haven't heard anything. This is a vital service for the Round Lake area. We need 911 and the paramedic ambulances. Please don't leave Round Lake Beach.

Nurses Are Important

Hi. I'm calling about the nurse issue. Nurses do belong in our schools. Our children are priceless; whether or not we have nurses shouldn't be based on how much it's going to cost. It's just like having health or life insurance. Every month those premiums cost us a lot of money, but it just takes that one time for it to pay off. Accidents happen every day every where. Nurses can administer medicine and perform other medical duties like CPR, blood pressure, stop bleeding, check heart rate and identify a communicable disease before it infects the entire school, splint a broken bone, calm a child. Why should we put another hat on a teacher's head? He or she is there to teach. As far as calling 911, that's done during an emergency, but sometimes CPR needs to be administered within seconds, not five to 10 minutes later. I am for having nurses in our schools, and I think it's ridiculous that we don't. Unfortunately, we'll have to wait until something terrible happens before things change.

Change To Square Lake?

Change our name? Lady, you don't belong in our community. You and people like you come out here because it's cheaper. You can't afford to live in Lake Forest and other expensive places like that, and they probably don't want you there because you're not one of them. I'm not a hillbilly or a motorcycle person, but you and people like you don't belong here either. By the way, you sound prejudiced. I have lived out here for more than 30 years and have raised six children — four boys and two girls. They all went to Round Lake High School and have all made something of themselves and I am proud of them. I have a nice home and nice neighbors. I moved out here because it was country. But guess what? Thanks to you people, you made everything so congested it is not country anymore. It is a mess out here. And what should we call this town?

Square Lake? Rectangular Lake? Star Lake? It is a Round Lake and the name is just perfect. I'm from Round Lake Park.

Reward Is Hug Or Smile

This is to the man that says nurses don't help kids. School nurses can give medication with parents' approval. School nurses help give secretaries and other school officials, including teachers, more time to do their jobs by being available to the children. As far as pay, sometimes our reward is a smile or a hug. I donate most of my time as a school nurse, and I do not get a salary taxable on property owners. Nursing is a profession of caring, and children are our greatest assets. Calling 911 will increase taxes, not make them less. Nurses are at school to assess problems that arise and are an important link between doctors and parents when taking care of our children. I'm from Antioch.

Thanks For Removing Mud

I would like to thank the elderly gentleman who cleared the sidewalks of mud and gunk on Forest Avenue in Fox Lake, north of Grand Avenue. A road crew had left the mess there for days. Walkers, including many seniors, had problems getting around it. My hat is off to you, sir.

In The Right Direction

I'm a resident of Round Lake Park and I've lived here all my life. I was here before the village was incorporated. I have seen all the mayors come and go. I have seen all the mayors fill their pockets up with money prior to the last few administrations here. I would like to say if we were comparing all the mayors, including the present one, if all mayors had been as conscientious as this present mayor, Round Lake Park would be a much better place to live. Not only has he brought this village from the dark ages, he's also pointed it towards a positive direction for the 21st century of growth. This village would be a much poorer place without him.

Gangs Are Mixed Breed

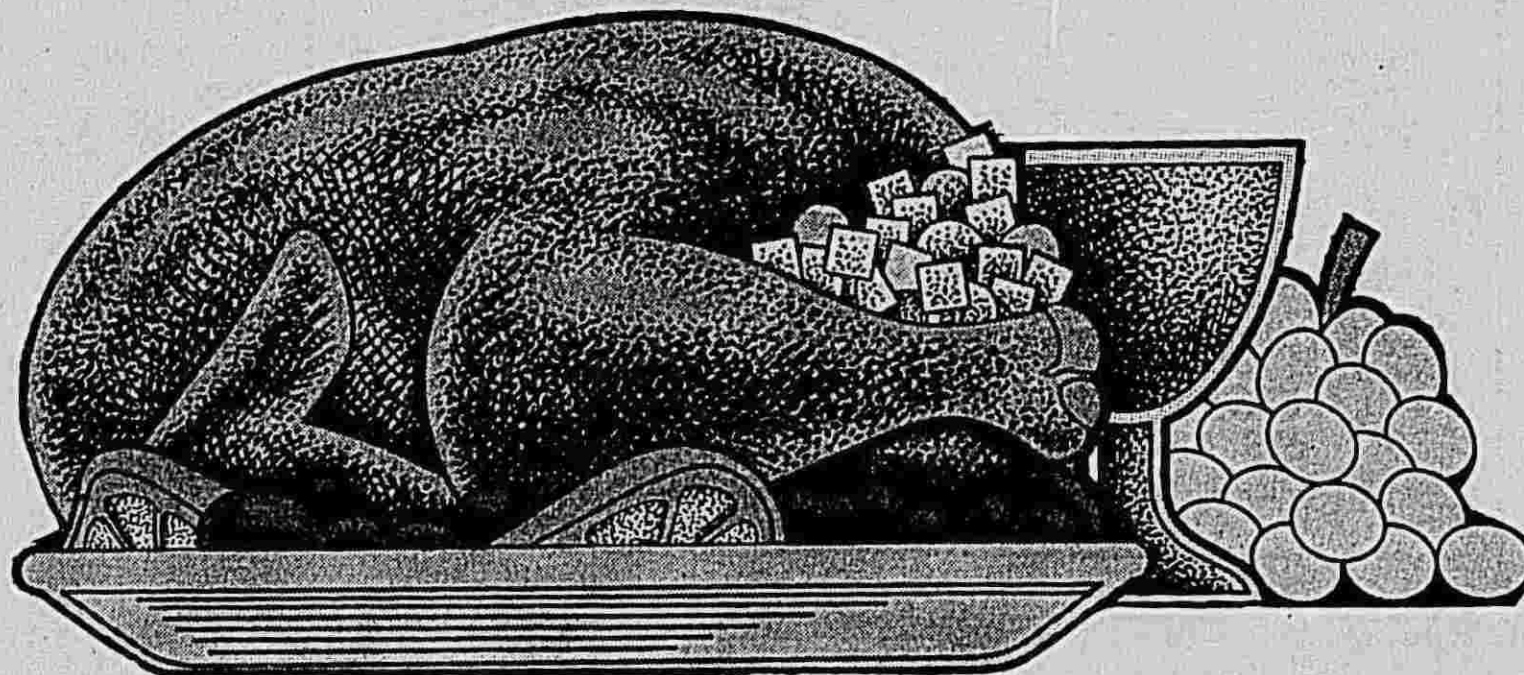

I'm calling in response to the comment about Hispanic gangs. There are no such as Hispanic gangs in Round Lake. This person is obviously singling out the Hispanic culture. The gangs in Round Lake are of mixed breed. I speak out of knowledge, not opinions. Youngsters join gangs because they are accepted and respected among their peers. This may sound foolish, but it's true. The older age doesn't respect them because of age, race or education, so they tend to give less respect to them. Lastly, I wish people would not judge whether a youngster is gang affiliated by their race. It's sad, but true.

Vacuum Leaves

Hey, you Grayslakers. We pay taxes to have our leaves vacuumed. There's no sense burning them. I've seen some really careless burning of leaves in Grayslake. You've got to stop that. Let them vacuum the leaves.

Model hobby steams into small business

by GENE GABRY
Lakeland Newspapers

Remember when you were a little child, and your parents bought you your first train set? Maybe it was at Christmas to go around the Christmas tree, or maybe it was for your first birthday. Then after a few years, for one reason or another, your

'There is a feeling of great satisfaction when the model is finished. Chances are it will be a one-of-a-kind because hobby kits do not offer this exact detail in their models.'

— Scott Hicks

train set found a permanent place in the attic or garage. That's how it was for Scott Hicks, a 35-year resident of Lake Zurich.

"I remember my dad bringing home a Tyco HO gauge train set to put around the Christmas Tree when I was 3-years old," said Scott. "Back then my brother Ted and I would build our train set to put around a small slot car track and run them both together." Then about seven years later the train set found its place in the attic, where it collected dust for another seven years.

"I remember vividly the day the model railroad bug hit me again," said Scott. "I was driving a tow truck for Price Gas out of Lake Zurich. On my way to a pick up I crossed over the freight yard that runs under 294 around Bensenville. I was paying so much attention to the different freight cars in the yard, that I almost caused an accident."

Scott said he didn't get real serious into building train cars and engines until about 12 years ago when he moved into a house which provided him the space to expand his hobby. "I started by building standard train kits offered by hobby shops, but found that they lacked fine detail, or certain models were not even available.

"That's when I started 'kit bashing,' or rebuilding and detailing standard off-the-shelf kits into true prototype models."

Scott said that off-the-shelf kits have some of the standard detail molded into the plastic body and that certain identification numbers will be missing. "That's where I start," said Scott.

"The first thing that needs to be done is the sanding down of this molded detail so that it can be replaced with actual scale parts made from brass or metal," explained Scott. "The hardest part to put on are the 'lift rings.' These are rings that in real life allow the cab of the engine to be lifted off the body for servicing. The part is only 4 mm. long and .363 mm. in diameter and requires a number 79 drill to be used to install the mounting holes. I usually have to wear 10-times magnifying lenses in eye glass frames to see what I am doing."

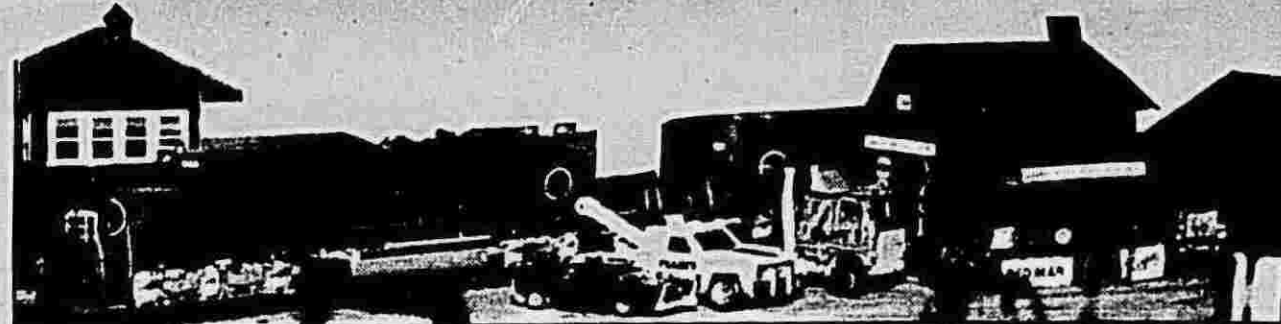

After all the parts are added, which could be as few as three and as many as 70, it is time to paint and add all the identification numbers.

"It usually takes from two weeks to three months to finish a custom model," said Scott. "There is a feeling of great satisfaction when the model is finished. Chances are it will be a one-of-a-kind because hobby kits do not offer this exact detail in their models."

A couple of years ago a friend of Scott's had asked him if he would build him a prototype model. Scott's friend was so pleased with the results that he told a friend, and on it went until Scott was building more and more train models for other people than for his own train yard. Scott has been commissioned to build prototype models for Palatine Hobby. His current project with Palatine Hobby is to build 38 prototype box cars (40-inch steel side) from the late 1940s to the early 1950s era.

Scott's personal railroad history goes back to the early 1900s when his great-grandpa Burghorn sold 3.2 acres for use by the Palatine, Lake Zurich & Wauconda railroad.

The model railroad hobby is being carried on by Scott's son Paul who goes "rail fanning" or photographing a train engine or car for the next project. Scott uses these photos to aid him in his construction and design. At the time of the photo session, he will also make measurements of crucial distances of parts on the engine or car so the placement will be scaled down correctly.

Scott's son Paul, is also very active with model building. In addition Paul helps his dad build the landscapes for the track layout. The two are getting ready to make the scenery for the 13th track layout which is 10-feet by 25-feet, includes a four-track engine yard complete with engine house, a 13-track freight yard for his 250 plus freight cars, and two main oval tracks with an oval lead-in track from the freight yard. "I probably won't have this one very long before I start designing layout number 14," Scott said.

For more information regarding custom model building, Scott Hicks may be contacted evenings after 6 p.m. at 438-9109. If interested in learning more about constructing a model railroad layout, the Fox Valley Model Railroad Club, a branch of the national Model Railroad Association (NMRA), will be hosting a "High Wheels" program at Harper College on March 6 and 7. The program will include the construction of a 3-foot by 6-foot working train layout. At the end of the program the layout will be raffled off. Materials for the construction have been donated by Palatine Hobby.

Investment strategies in Clinton's presidency

by T. GAERTNER

Investors are anxious to learn how the investment environment might change after Bill Clinton officially becomes our President.

I have reassured my clients that since they had a good investment plan in place during the Bush presidency, they will not have to make wholesale changes to that investment plan now that Bill Clinton is taking the reins.

Having said that, all investors should pay attention to certain portfolio changes that we feel will be beneficial over the next four years.

Clinton has a clear mandate to improve our economic situation. We believe that he will try to accomplish this through increased government spending and tax incentives. This is likely to lead to:

•A stronger economy by the end of 1993.

•Higher taxes on those taxpayers who are currently in the 31 percent tax bracket.

•A 1993 inflation rate of approximately 3.3 percent, slightly higher than the 2.9 percent we anticipate for 1992.

•Interest rates that will be slightly higher than we see today.

Let's look at the three basic asset allocation classes (cash, bonds and stocks) to determine what portfolio adjustments might be appropriate for the next four years.

•Cash—While interest rates are low for money market accounts and certificates of deposit, it makes sense to have some of your portfolio in this area to take advantage of future investment opportunities as well as to adequately provide liquidity.

•Bonds—Consider shortening the maturity of your bond portfolio. While very long term money can be invested in longer term bonds, monies you will need to access over the next five to 10 years should be invested in intermediate term bonds. We recommend that you look at an average maturity of four to 9 years and that you "ladder" or stagger your maturities from one to nine years. If you are a mutual fund investor, which we highly recommend, look for bond funds that employ the above investment philosophy. Your financial advisor can help you make the right choice.

Another consideration in the bond arena. If you are in the top tax bracket, there are two reasons to be looking at municipal bond funds. First, the yield spread between municipal bonds and 30 year treasury bonds is very low based on historic rates. As the spread normalizes, municipal bond rates are likely to come down relative to treasury bond rates and this will benefit today's municipal bond fund holders.

Second, when tax rates go up under Clinton,

(notice I said "when" not "if") demand for municipal bonds will increase. This will likely cause a decline in municipal bond rates and this will benefit today's municipal bonds fund holders.

•Stocks—Since 1928, small cap stocks have had the following returns:

Under the Republicans—Down an annual average of 2.6 percent.

Under the Democrats—Up an annual average of 12.7 percent.

Large cap stocks, on the other hand, have performed nearly the same under both the Republican and Democrats. The message, invest more of your stock portfolio in small cap stock funds over the next four years.

We also feel that cyclical stocks will perform better under Bill Clinton than they did under George Bush.

One final tax planning thought. If you anticipate being in the top tax bracket this year and in 1993, accelerate income into 1992 before the top tax rates go up.

On the other side, postpone deductible expenses until 1993 when the deduction is likely to be worth more to you because of the higher tax rates.

Your financial advisor can help you implement the above recommendations.

Editor's note: Terrence R. Gaertner, a Certified Financial Planner and Certified Public Accountant, is president of Chicago Financial Advisors, Inc.

Tips on how to reduce estate taxes by 90 percent

by NICK J. BROWN

The government is running huge deficits with more projected. Both major political parties had grand plans to try to get elected. The bottom line is we will all be paying more taxes.

In order to create savings, you must first pay federal income tax, state income tax, property tax, and then try to save the balance.

After your death, the ultimate insult is paying federal capital tax on your assets from your estate. The capital tax is the true name for the federal estate tax. This is a tax that the government charges your estate before any of your beneficiaries can receive the benefit of your 50 years of hard work.

Under current law there is a provision where up to 100 percent of your estate can pass to your spouse at your death but then the entire tax burden is assessed at your spouse's death. There are ways to pay these taxes at a substantial discount by repositioning assets, gifting, and setting up a wealth accumulation trust.

This wealth accumulation trust can be funded in such a way as to pay these taxes at only a few cents on the dollar of the taxes due. This tactic is well established under current law and our advice to our clients has been to try to implement these plans as fully as possible before the new Congress is seated.

The combined problems of a growing deficit and low levels of economic activity have sent politicians looking to find new sources of revenue. An easy political source is to tax the rich which currently means anyone who has a home, a pension plan, some life insurance, and some savings. If your total assets do not exceed $1,200,000 there may be no taxes; most tax proposals, however, involve reducing the $600,000 unified credit down to as low as zero and many proposals would provide only a $100,000 unified credit to each spouse.

With all of the changes in the wind, it would make good sense to review your estate plan with your attorney, accountant, and insurance adviser to make sure that your assets are positioned in such a way as to minimize this tax no matter what future laws should provide.

The Planning Group, Inc. will be holding seminars starting in January, 1993, that will more fully illuminate the possibilities for tax savings and the payment of these taxes at up to a 90 percent discount. Call Lana Zakon at 998-1640 for further information.

Editor's note: Nick J. Brown president of The Planning Group, Glenview, is a financial planning and consulting firm that counsels individuals and business in all 50 states. Questions are invited by writing to This Way To Wealth in care of this paper or to 2203B Lakeside Dr., Bannockburn, IL 60015.

Ancient healing art becomes scientific therapy with new image

One of the most ancient healing arts has become a scientific therapy with a new image. Massage Therapy is the medium that a growing number of people have discovered. Long prized by many cultures for its reputed ability to induce relaxation, relieve muscle soreness and give a boost to the body, spirit, and mind, massage has now come into mainstream America. Massage therapy was slow to catch on in the United States. As early as 450 B.C. Hippocrates, known as the father of scientific medicine, prescribed massage for his patients. During the Roman Empire massage was a daily routine for many in the public baths. In ancient China blind persons gave massage treatments because it was thought that their sense of touch was more developed. In the 1800's Swedish massage was invented in Sweden by Per Henrik Ling who then brought this technique to America.

Currently massage therapy is making advances among the medical profession, chronic pain sufferers, athletes, stressed out executives, people whose jobs cause poor body posture and repetitive movements that bring on pain, and those who want to pamper themselves in a stressed out age.

The massage therapy profession has raised its standards over the last two decades to the point where many doctors are prescribing massage for their patients for stress relief or to reduce muscle pain instead of prescribing drugs. No longer is massage just a "rub."

There are scientific goals to the art such as: increasing circulation into the tissue as well as throughout the body, relieving muscles spasms and cramps which cause pain, relaxing the sympathetic nervous system which causes the stressed out panic fight or flight syndrome, increasing endorphins from the brain into the body which is a natural pain relieving chemical whose side effects are a euphoric feeling.

The American Massage Therapy Assn., which is the oldest professional organization of massage therapists in the United States, has grown from 1,400 members in 1981 to 16,000 members today. It is one of the fastest growing professions of our time which comes as a response to our lifestyles in a fast paced world. We are becoming increasingly more aware of health and wellness in the areas of body and mind.

There are at least 56 professional schools across the country approved by the AMTA. Graduates of these schools study anatomy, physiology, Kinesiology, massage theory and a wide range of massage/bodywork techniques. There are bound-decrease tension in the muscles.

Neuromuscular massage is anatomically specific using cross fiber and trigger points to release pain from damaged or shortened muscles.

Sports massage is is to relax the nervous system which will help to relax the mind and the body. The style of massage is sought by many who suffer from stress related problems.

Acupressure and shiatsu are oriental styles of bodywork. Lotion or oil is not used for these techniques. Pressure is applied with a finger, thumb or elbow to sensitive areas of bunched muscles and/or blocked energy. The theory is that energy or chi runs through the body along any of 14 meridians. By applying pressure to these commonly blocked areas, it is believed to open the flow of energy through the body normalizing body function. Acupressure and shiatsu have been practiced in China and Japan since ancient times.

Reflexology is similar to shiatsu. It is theorized that on the bottom of the foot access to all the energy meridians is available. By stimulating specific points on the foot with direct pressure, it is believed to open the chi and help normalize function of the body.

Massage bodywork is not a substitute for medical attention. If you have a health problem, consult a doctor first.

The message is massage is that massage is a therapy for everyone. It is a natural drug free therapy often with profound effects.

Editor's note: Message is Massage was submitted by Jan O'Malley, certified massage therapist for Libertyville Massage Therapy Clinic.

aries to their training which they are taught to strictly observe. Massage therapists may not diagnose and cannot prescribe medicine.

There is a wide variety of massage techniques available with Swedish massage being the most commonly known. It is characterized by kneading, petrissage and manipulating the tissue to increase circulation and geared to the athletes' individual sport. For instance, for a discus thrower a massage therapist would focus on the muscles of the arms, shoulders and back. For a marathon runner, the focus would be on the legs, feet and hips.

Eselan massage, or relaxation massage as many call it, is a gentle, light pressure, slow, nurturing session. The desired effect

Healthy holiday gift ideas for senior citizens

Finding the perfect holiday gift is rarely easy, especially when it's for an elderly relative or friend who seems to have acquired almost everything imaginable. But perhaps the best way to show older adults how much you care would be a gift that will help them stay healthy, according to experts at University of Wisconsin Hospital and Clinics.

"Choosing healthful gifts shows you are interested in someone's well-being," says Barb King, a geriatric nurse practitioner at UW Hospital and Clinics. These gifts can also show a lot of creativity on the part of the giver.

One of the most popular healthful gifts is a membership to a fitness class. The American Heart Association lists physical inactivity as a major risk factor for cardiovascular disease. If an older adult agrees to join an exercise program, make sure he or she first receives a physician's evaluation, advises Tricia Crinkley, outreach and senior programs coordinator at UW Hospital's Sports Medicine Center. In addition to testing for overall health, the physician may uncover a condition that could affect an exercise program, such as high blood pressure. In addition, be sure to choose exercise programs staffed by professionals trained in the special needs of older adults.

Food is another welcome gift, especially because many older adults are on tight budgets. Look for healthy, tasty foods, such as breads and fruits, suggests Donna Wei-hofen, a nutritionist at UW Hospital and Clinics. In addition, choose items that contain little or no salt because salt can exacor mobility to winterize their homes. Consider a home insulation check, which might include installing storm windows, weather-stripping the windows and buying draft stoppers for the door.

the house.

•Smoke detectors can be a lifesaver.

For the outdoors

•Snow and ice are particularly hazardous for the elderly. Aside from being a major cause of falls, they can produce a glare that affects already-reduced vision. Installing a light near a door would help improve visibility at night, while providing added security.

•For snow removal, buy an older adult a lightweight snow thrower, or pay a neighbor to shovel the driveway and sidewalk for the winter.

•For those who have difficulty reaching, an automatic garage door opener might help. In the kitchen

•Because snowfall can keep older adults inside for several days, consider a "snowy day basket" filled with items such as soups, tea, cereals and dried fruits. Or, fill a basket with flavored yogurts, bagels and other healthy foods. Many older adults don't try new flavors because they fear they won't like them and will have wasted their money.

•Find out if there is a "Meals on Wheels" or similar program in your area that delivers nutritious meals to the elderly.

•Because soups are a favorite with older adults, try buying some of the dry ingredients, such as beans, and placing them in festive containers.

•Consider a lightweight mixer or blender that would ease food preparation.

•Automatic bread makers are a popular item this year.

Clothing

•Because many older adults have circulatory problems, slippers and socks may be a welcome gift.

•Buy boots with rubber soles to better protect the elderly from falling on the ice.

•If considering a coat, look for one made of water-repellant material with insulation that helps keep warm air near the body.

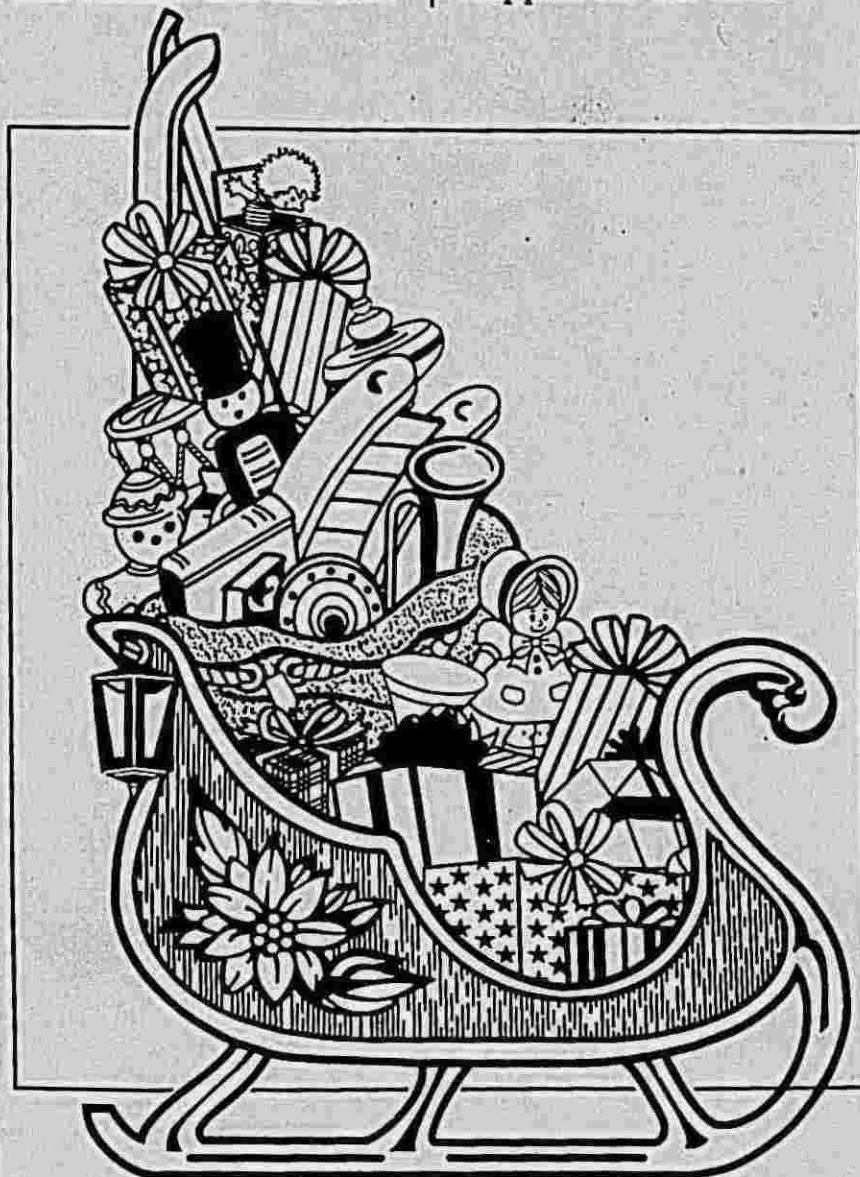

•For those who exercise, loose-fitting clothes or athletic shoes are options. Budget-stretchers

•Consider paying for an older adult's medication. Many of the elderly don't take their medication as directed because they want to make the expensive medications last as long as possible.

•Pay the cost of cab fares or bus service, or take an older adult out once a week. These will not only save money, but will also increase social contacts which can help combat depression.

•Pay the heating bill for a month to help stretch the utility budget.

erbate high blood pressure. Between three million and four million Americans over age 60 have hypertension, which can lead to heart attacks, strokes and other serious health problems.

Other healthful gift ideas for older adults include:

For the home
•Many elderly homeowners lack the strength

•If your elderly friend or relative uses a fireplace or wood-burning stove, ensure that it's operating safely and then have some chopped wood delivered and stacked in a safe, accessible spot.

•Find out if an older adult would agree to have an occupational therapist recommend ways to increase mobility around

LCCS keeps seniors active

The Lake County Council for Seniors was founded in 1973 as an advocacy organization to bring into Lake County the benefits promised by the Older Americans Act of 1965. The founders helped establish the first senior centers in Lake County and today, seniors in eight communities, from Antioch to Deerfield, are enjoying hot lunches and fellowship, five days a week, in their local centers. The LCCS also has helped to secure affordable transportation, subsidized housing, home-health care and other services.

The LCCS meets on the first Thursday morning of the month at 9:30 a.m. at the First Methodist Church in Libertyville. For more information call 244-1720.

I need to confront the fact that my father sexually abused me when I was a child.

Many victims of sexual abuse blame themselves for the incidents and suffer from intense feelings of guilt. These victims need to recognize that the abuse was not their fault.

Bradley Counseling Center staff can guide an abuse victim through the process of confronting the problem and learning that they did not have control over the situation. A therapist can also help victims recognize that they can become sexual abusers themselves and work with them to deal with this potential problem.

Bradley Counseling Center can help with a number of emotional problems including stress, marital and family conflict, problems in school, loneliness, anxiety, physical and sexual abuse, depression and suicidal feelings.

Walk or run to enjoy benefits of growing old

Chances are you may have heard someone say: "I don't care if I live a day past the age of 60." That's just the way they feel until they reach 59!

The average life span of Americans today is 71.3 years for men and 78.3 years for women.

While regular exercise is generally recommended for good health, the benefits of ordinary activity are now recognized, as well.

Some fitness experts report that when it comes to burning off body fat—something almost every one of us is interested in—it's better to walk for an hour than to run for half an hour. They say that low intensity, long duration activity burns body fat better than high intensity short duration activity.

In The Physician and Sports Medicine Journal, Dr. Ronald LaPorte,

Graduate School of Public Health, Univ. of Pittsburgh, says people should be more active—sitting is better than lying, walking is better than sitting, and so on. He says complex exercise is not necessary for good results. People will get results with an ordinary activity program. New medical technology is showing that the benefits of ordinary activity is having far-reaching implications for thousands of people who, up to now, have had difficulty with almost any kind of activity. About 80,000 people in the U.S. receive single-chamber heart pacemakers each year. This conventional fixed-rate pacemaker operates at a steady 70 beats per minute regardless of the activity of the wearer. When they do engage in any kind of activity, patients are often tired or short of breath.

Researchers for Medtronic, Inc., in Minneapolis, the world's leading manufacturer of heart pacemakers, tackled the problem and developed the concept of "rate-responsive pacing." The result is the Activitrax pacemaker which contains an "energy sensor" that mimics the heart's normal response to physical activity.

The unit automatically adjusts the heart rate as needed from 60 to 150 beats per minute. For the first time, pacemaker wearers participate in everything from walking to gardening—even dancing—and gain the benefits or ordinary activity.

On the subject of activity and longevity, it's reported that a Chinese lived for 256 years and a Bolivian for 203 years. The Guinness Book of World Records says there are only two "little people" on record living past age 100, and both of these were women.

No one really knows how far our lifespan will eventually be extended, but researchers are studying how long-lived individuals achieved their great age—and how the rest of us might join them.

'Ask your pharmacist'

Q: My friend says that she saves a lot of money by getting her prescriptions filled with generic drugs. Are they as good as the "real thing?"

Agnes Baker, Grayslake

A: The answer is a "qualified" yes! In order for a drug to be manufactured by a generic company, the original patent of the brand name entity must first be expired. Under current U.S. law, this waiting period is 10 years. After that point, any pharmaceutical manufacturer can produce a generic for the brand name product.

Please note, however, that the producers of the generic drug must meet the exact same standards set forth by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration at the manufacturer of the brand name counterpart. In this sense, therefore, the generic medications are as good as the brand names.

In the state of Illinois, any substitution or "drug product selection" of a generic drug must comply with the strict guidelines of the Illinois Drug Product Selection Formulary. This consists of a list of generic medications that have been deemed "equivalent" by the Illinois Department of Public Health. In order for a generic drug to be dispensed by the pharmacist, the physicians' prescription must not have a check mark in the "may not substitute" box and the drug must be listed in the Illinois Formulary.

In summery, generic drugs can save you as much as 70 percent on certain prescriptions. Over the course of the year, this savings may add up to a substantial amount of money. If you are in doubt, however, concerning the relative equivalence of the generic medications, please do not hesitate to ask your pharmacist!—by FRANK P. DeSTEFANO, Rph., Fairhaven Pharmacy, Mundelein

LIPSERVICE IT'S THE TALK OF THE TOWN

Lakeland

Approve? No way!

Homosexuals should not have to fear violence done to them, but they ask too much if they demand approval of their lifestyle.

Cut Administration Costs

I live in Round Lake Beach. As far as janitors being cut from the schools, I think there should be more cut from administration before they start cutting on janitors. Secondly, regarding the car dealership. Before any new business comes into Round Lake Beach, they better start checking and see what it's like here. This town is run badly.

Who's Making A Buck

I am an Antioch caller. I'm sure there are many of you who have been caught in the convoy of heavy, heavy heavy duty construction trucks that clip up and down Main Street. It has happened to me many times. Worse yet, they go in pairs. This goes on seven days each week and 12 hours a day, if not more. Where are they going? Are they hauling full loads? When will it stop? Sure, it looks like the economy is improving, and so are somebody's pockets. Who's benefiting? I'm sure there's a lot of money being made by the developers and Antioch politicians. Come on. Come clean and reveal your sources. I'm stuck behind the convoy now, and it's only 7 a.m. down Main St.. Please respond. I thank you, Lipservice. You're doing a terrific job.

Don't We Have A Say?

I am furious. The forest preserve wants to operate riverboat gambling on their newly acquired Fox River Forest Preserve. A meeting was held in a closed door session. It was my tax dollars that bought the land. Nothing was ever said about riverboat gambling when the property was bought. What about the people in the surrounding area? Don't we have a say in this? What about the people who live along the Fox River? Don't they have a say in all this? What about traffic now? Barrington, Tower Lakes, is this is what you wanted done with this property. I'm a resident of Fox River Valley Gardens.

See For Yourself

My name is James Prault and I'm the principal at Round Lake Senior High School. I read Lipservice in order to see if anyone is going to complain about or compliment our district. I am disturbed by the recent callers decrying the use of Hispanic gangs in Round Lake. I am saying to you that we at the high school do not see a rise in "gangs." We do have students who are affiliated as we can tell by the occasional graffiti left in their wake.

However, I invite any of you to visit and witness our young people in an everyday school situation. You will see that most are just kids, like all others. I believe that many people fear the unknown and they have never taken the time to get to know Hispanic people or anything about them. These fearful people see a group of white students hanging out and visiting with friends, and think nothing about it. They see a group of Hispanics, and they automatically think "gang" because they don't understand the language or the kids. Thus, they feel they have a mistrust or fear. Come on, people, lighten up. There are no more "bad" Hispanics than Anglos. You, who label them, are part of the problem. Sometimes people become what they feel others expect them to become. Why not expect them to be a friend? I believe you will be pleasantly surprised.

Jesus Versus Santa

I would like to comment on the Santa versus the true meaning of Christmas issue. A family, as a Christian family, who prefers to raise their four children to respect the meaning of Christmas as a religious holiday versus what Santa will bring. Our children don't expect Santa to come down our chimney and bring them toys, but instead we celebrate the day as His birthday. Therefore, we give to the needy as our birthday gift to Jesus. But with all of the Santa paraphernalia in our public schools and our stores, it is really difficult to grasp the true meaning of Christmas. Have you noticed how many Nativity scenes are on display in the stores versus Santa Claus? This is something to really think about. What is our Christian society coming to? We don't feel there is anything wrong with children having dreams and fantasies, but we prefer to raise our children with the thought that Christmas is truly the celebration of the birthday of Jesus. Thank you for reading our interpretation of Christmas, and have a joyous Christmas.

TIF Is A Losing Deal

Fox Lake, how can we let our government officials consider using a controversial program like tax increment financing. Governor Edgar has cut more than half the funding for TIFs from this year's budget. TIF cities that didn't receive the expected amount now have to find money someplace else. How do you think they are going to do that? It's called increased taxes and less city services. I saw my taxes more than double this past year. If we allow our elected officials to do this to us, what are we looking at in the future. I don't mind my taxes going to schools or better public services, but I don't agree with my taxes being used to promote something like the Hwy. 12 project. There's just too many ways it can hurt our community in the long run. Besides possible tax increases, what about the businesses that have been here for years. Come on, folks, get with it. Our community can be nicer without a new grocery store. Let's concentrate on what we already have, rather than wheeling and dealing for the sake of some developer.

Time Limit

We have been buying the Grayslake Times for many years and Bill Schroeder is a fine publisher. But Bill, can you explain why some Lipservice callers are cut off in 30 seconds, while other callers are allowed two minutes? Why not allow all callers to finish the message.

Editor's Note: The answering machine will "cut you off" if you take too long of a pause between one word and the next. When you pause for a certain length of time, the machine "thinks" that you have finished your comments. We apologize for the inconvenience.

See For Yourself II

Hi. I'm from Round Lake and this is for all you people who are complaining about the Hispanic gang calls. First of all, Lakeland Newspapers is not responsible for the opinions of anyone. Without opinions, negative or positive, there wouldn't be any Lipservice. Secondly, these statements are true facts. It's got nothing to do with bigotry or racism. Why do you people cry racism every time a true fact is brought out about against a certain group of people. If you park outside of our Round Lake Schools, you will be very embarrassed when you see, with your own eyes, just how many Hispanic gang members walk out. Go talk to your December 9, 1992 7-8 p.m.

Presented by:

Bernard Levine, Ph.D.

Staff Psychologist

Saint Therese Medical Center

The management of marriage is either ignored, minimized or romanticized. This has often resulted in broken relationships. Financially, emotionally and socially the cost is enormous. How to communicate with your spouse or spouse-to-be will help you significantly reduce these costs. This presentation will focus on operationalizing your relationship. It will focus on how to set up arrangements that put into action who does what, when and how. It will especially focus on developing marital contracting and conflict resolution.

Dr. Levine is a staff psychologist with Saint Therese Medical Center and is in private practice in Libertyville.

NICASA: Carrying a message of hope

His name could be Joe. About 35, he is well educated, a father, and at one time a successful business professional...and cocaine addict. But not anymore.

Her name can be Maria. Daughter of an alcohol abuser, she too—barely into her teens—was diagnosed as an abuser. Failing by almost any academic, emotional or social standard, she once needed help but knew not how or whom to ask. But others did.

And how about...well, let's call him say Manuel. Homeless for years, the 30-year-old had been shot, stabbed and slashed at one time or another and without close friends or a regular job for years. He came from a family of abusers and had been one himself for most of his life. His struggle continues, says Bill Hetland of the Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse in Lake County, although he now has faith in himself, trust in others....

And hope.

"I've known people to come to us kicking and screaming," recalled Hetland, NICASA community development coordinator. Many were obligated to attend the agency's Driving Under the Influence re-education program, mandatory under Illinois law for DUI offenders. Others were referred by employers or persuaded by friends or family to participate in NICASA's adult and youth outpatient counseling programs, said Hetland. And then there were the hard-core, chronic abusers. They had come to NICASA when other, more traditional rehabilitation programs had proved inadequate, hoping as a last resort to join NICASA's 20-bed residential rehab community, Bridge House.

"In the end," declared Hetland, "they become our greatest boosters."

Such people come from every occupation or profession and from every ethnic and cultural group, said Hetland.

They are men and women who needed a hand, got one and are glad of it.

The reach and vigor of such programs—since 1972,

2,000 men and women have undergone the Bridge House's six- to eight-month program, and in 1991 more than 6,000 people worked with NICASA counselors—reflects the agency's roots as the Lake County Council on Alcoholism, established in Waukegan in 1966 as a counseling and referral agency for chronic alcoholics with strong ties to Alcoholics Anonymous in Lake County.

From that one small office in Waukegan, the NICASA has since expanded into a full-fledged prevention/education and treatment agency with a staff of 55, plus a number of medical professionals hired periodically as contract employees. Besides Bridge House, NICASA maintains counseling, treatment and administrative offices in Waukegan and Prairie View, on the main campus of the College of Lake County in Grayslake and in its newest main office in Round Lake.

The opening of the new office this summer may symbolize, perhaps, the broadening outlook of NICASA, said Hetland, as the agency adapts to the changing needs of Lake Countians and the increasing need to diversify its financial base.

Increasingly, NICASA has moved towards prevention services—presentations to schools, church groups and employers, NICASA-sponsored parent/family education and training programs in the workplace dubbed as the Parents Project, and sponsorship of neighborhood parenting groups, for example. NICASA and the Lake County Health Department jointly sponsor the annual Red Ribbon Week drug/substance awareness campaign in public schools.

The success of the Parent Project at Abbott Laboratories earned the endorsement of Illinois Lt. Gov. Bob Kustra for similar parenting partnership programs in businesses throughout the state. A similar program began in September for women inmates of the Lake County Jail, said NICASA prevention services director Pam Van Treeck. Inmates may attend twice-weekly workshops for eight to 12 weeks on a variety of topics, including child care, communication, and family problem-solving. NICASA speakers frequently address business and corporation audiences, particularly during annual United Way fund-raising campaigns in Lake County.

Contributions to United Way, state appropriations, federal grants, and fees are the traditional financial base for NICASA.

However, that's changing, said Hetland. More effort now goes into corporate fund-raising, partly to compensate for declining government funds and partly to finance expansion of NICASA programs and facilities.

Examples of such "corporate commitment" to NICASA programs, said Hetland, include the donation of the seven-acre site in Round Lake for the new NICASA office by Baxter Healthcare Corp. and the donations of $150,000 and the furnishings for the new building by Abbott Laboratories.

But the support goes beyond the checkbook, insisted Van Treeck. Business representatives long ago underscored the importance of NICASA in the workplace, inviting agency speakers from time to time to address employees, to participate in health fairs, and to train company counselors, for example. And corporate leaders also share responsibility for shaping NICASA's future, Van Treeck said. They join representatives from civic groups, government and community agencies and individual citizens, for instance, as members of the agency's board of directors and as participants of the NICASA-sponsored Lake County Fighting Back Project.

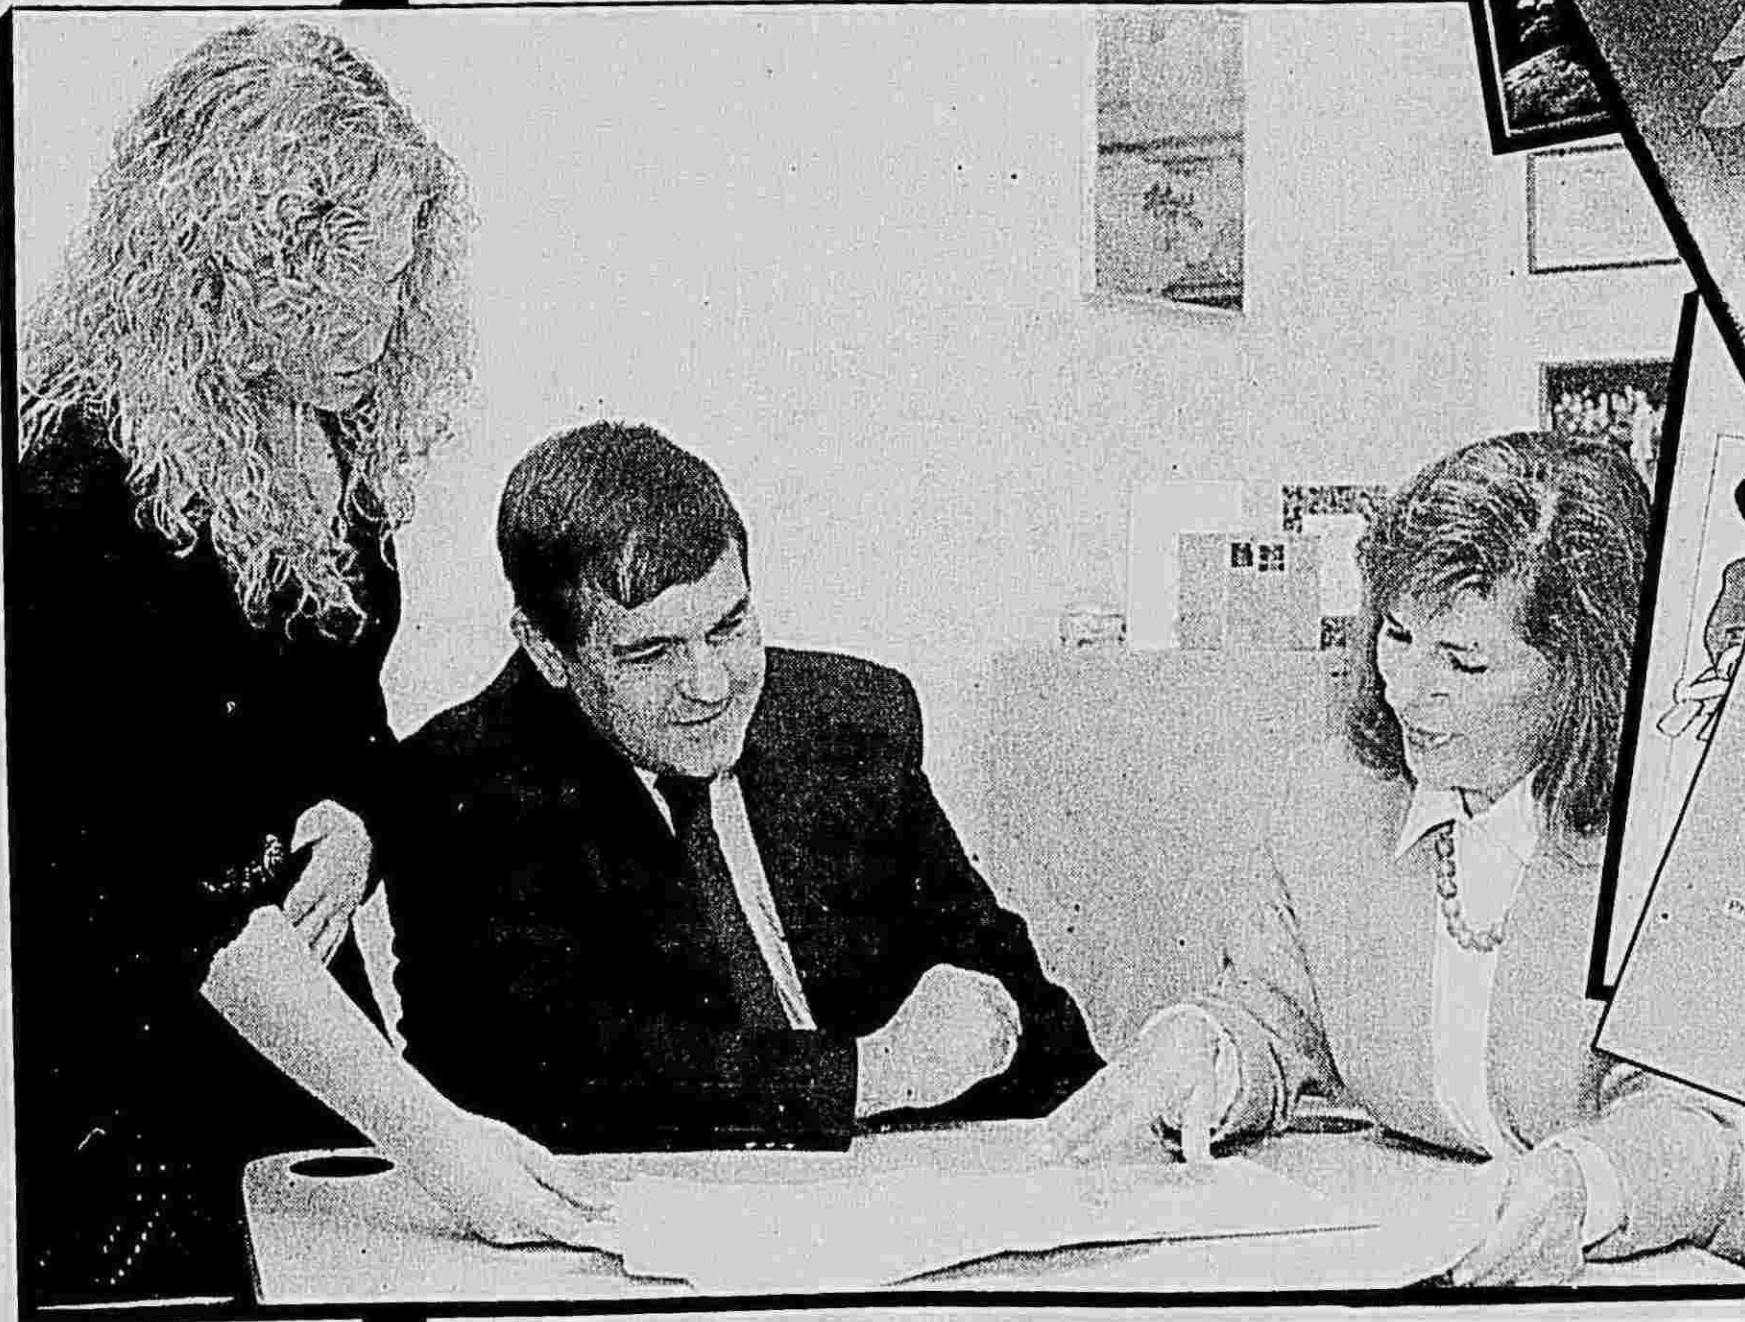

Fighting Back, explained Van Treeck, is a county-wide forum primarily for the discussion of social issues concerning Lake County communities. More than 200 volunteers decide upon ways the different communities can deal with such vexing problems as gang activity, teenage pregnancy, child abuse, and drug use among school children.

The project is financed

Folk music for kids

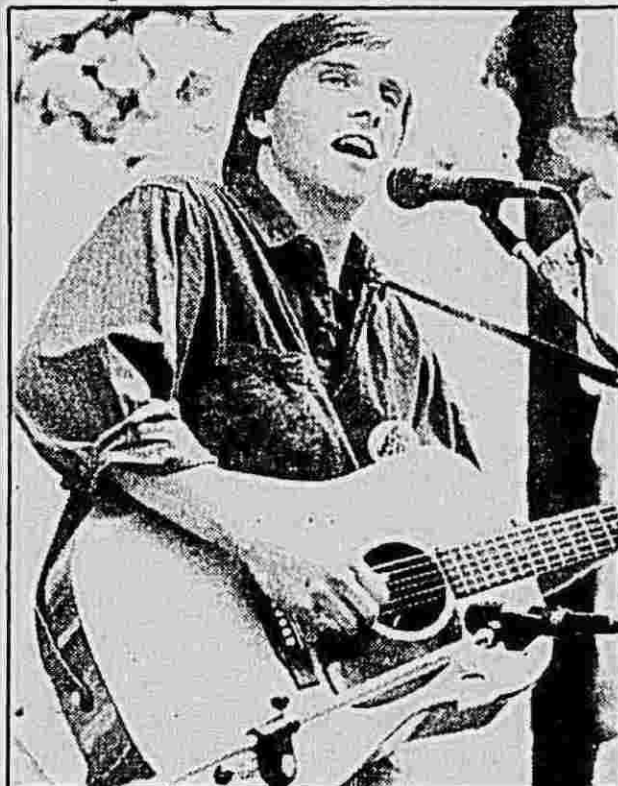

Stage Two Theatre in Waukegan will present folk singer Mark Dvorak Nov. 28 at 10 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. for a children's program of folk songs and "homemade" music. All seats are $3.

Dvorak's program, "Old Songs and New People," leads the children through a variety of traditional and contemporary folk songs, as he accompanies himself on guitar and banjo. The performance is part of Stage Two's Super Saturdays Children's Series.

Dvorak shares a collection of old familiar songs and teaches some new songs as well. During the program, Dvorak also demonstrates some simple but unusual homemade instruments. Children will learn how easy it can be to make their own music at home.

Dvorak is considered one of the best "unknown" musicians in the Chicago land area. He has presented many programs for children in schools, libraries, festivals and parks in Illinois and Indiana. He performs regularly at folk clubs in the Chicago area and teaches guitar and banjo lessons at the Old Town School of Folk Music in Chicago.

Stage Two Theatre is located at 12 N. Sheridan Road, Waukegan, in the newly renovated University Center. Entrance to the theater is from the city parking lot off Sheridan Road, between Washington and Madison Streets. For reservations, or for

Willy Wonka

The Papai Players welcome you and the entire family to share in a delicious adventure with "Charlie & the Chocolate Factory" being performed at Cutting Hall, 150 Wood Street in Palatine through Jan. 2.

Performance times are 10:30 a.m., Wed. Nov. 11; Sat. Nov. 14; Mon. Dec. 28; Tues. Dec. 29 and Wed. Dec., 30. On Nov. 18, the performance is at 10 a.m. Dec. 27 the show begins at 2 p.m.

Ticket price is $5. Reservations are requested by calling 359-9556.

The "Charlie" cast includes twelve adult professional performers from the greater Chicagoland area who will portray spoiled brats, greedy, naughty children and "oompa loompa" elves who because of their misbehavior eventually turn into a blueberry, tumble into a chocolate river or meet with some strange fate. These characters enjoy tormenting and distracting the benevolent, but slightly bizarre, Willy Wonka who because of his passionate love of chocolate, ingeniously invents secret recipes for the delicious chocolate "wonka bars" and "everlasting gobstoppers." The good-hearted Charlie, in the end, gets to enjoy the rewards from discovering the last of the five "golden tickets."—by RHONDA VINZANT

with a five-year federal grant awarded to NICASA in 1990.

It's through such interaction, said VanTreeck, that NICASA believes its programs will retain credibility, durability and purpose in the years ahead.

That will be essential, executive director Judy Fried said, if NICASA programs are to remain viable.

More than ever, she explained, partnership must typify NICASA community programs. Strengthened traditional counseling and treatment programs are likely, she said, as the cost of private health care continues to increase. But the agency will devote increasing resources upon broadening and refining its prevention/education efforts.

These efforts will aim, for example, to intensify alcohol and substance abuse education for the young, to stress the need for "early intervention" in the lives of people considered especially vulnerable to alcohol and substance abuse, to strengthen family ties between parents and children, and to encourage established "systems" in communities for dealing with local concerns—systems patterned after the Fighting Back program.

"We learned years ago how resilient people can be," says Fried. "Working together, I doubt there's a problem we can't face."

CompuWork

CompuWork-Fast and easy computer training offered through CLC

If you need computer training and need it now, can't spend a lot of time or money and want to concentrate on things you really need to know for your particular job situation, the College of Lake County is offering a unique concept in instruction called CompuWork.

CompuWork is not what you would think of as a traditional course. You begin whenever you want; there's no waiting for a class to start. You can call up today and begin hands-on instruction tomorrow.

Through CompuWork, a trainee can learn word processing, spreadsheets, database, desktop publishing, data entry, graphics and Windows. The trainee selects the software package he or she needs to learn. More than 70 software packages and systems are available, including WordPerfect, WordStar, Microsoft Word, Lotus 1-2-3, DisplayWrite, Excel and Office Writer.

The training is completely individualized. Working with a manual, the trainee works with the computer and receives step by step instruction. A facilitator is on hand to answer any questions or assist with individual problems.

Trainees go at their own pace, skip the things they don't need and spend extra time on the things they really need to know. Instruction is available for one-half day, one-day or two-day sessions and ranges in cost from $150 to $400 depending on the program and duration. Reduced rates are available for groups.

Because instruction is completely individualized through CompuWork, the program is adaptable for beginner, those with some computer knowledge, seasoned veterans and those seeking specialized program skills.

CompuWork is offered at five sites throughout Lake County: Lakehurst, Lake Bluff, Vernon Hills, Wauconda and Grayslake.

For information or to register for computer training through CompuWork call 223-3615.

Rwheel World

61 years later, Drac's a yawner

It was 1931 when Tod Browning brought Bela Lugosi to the screen in glorious black and white to scare us as "Dracula." That movie still has a cult following, and was probably one of the high points of Lugosi's career. Or did you actually like "Plan 9 From Outer Space"?

Francis Ford Coppola's 1992 release stars Gary Oldman in the title role as "Bram Stoker's Dracula," doing a smashing job as the Romanian-warrior-turned-vampire. But even he, and some other fine cast performances, couldn't prevent the movie from being boring. Chic, but boring.

The movie opens with Coppola giving us some background on what drove Dracula (pronounced drah-cool) to embrace the powers of darkness.

During a fierce battle, false word is sent to his bride Elizabeta—played by Winona Ryder, another super performer—that warrior Dracula has been killed. She commits suicide, and when Drac returns—a priest tells him that she will not go to God, because she took her own life. Dracula renounces the church, and says he will live forever with the help of the aforementioned powers of darkness.

Sound exciting? It wasn't. The cinematography was beautiful stuff, as were the special effects, but there was not much substance to the film—you never really get scared, and the moments of typical horror-movie tension are few and far between.

There were some other stand-out actors, though, such as Anthony Hopkins as vampire-hunter Dr. Abraham Van Helsing, Ryder in dual roles as "frails" Elizabeta and Mina Murray, and newcomer Sadie Frost as Mina's friend Lucy Westerna, who becomes one of Drac's early blood banks when he relocates to London from Transylvania.

There's also a great character played by bluesman Tom Waits. I won't name the character, though some reviewers already have. See if you can pick him out when you rent the video. He was almost unrecognizable to the crowd in the theater, and there were many gasps of surprise when his name rolled by on the credits.

And then, alas, there is Keanu Reeves, completely miscast as Ryder's love interest, Jonathan Harker. He slipped in and out of his English accent frequently, which was awful to start with.

If he had been any stiffer and less emotional, someone would have had to take his pulse to convince me he was still alive. Reeves almost became Drac's lunch early in the movie, and you might find yourself wishing the count had finished the deed.

There is some humor in the movie. Hopkins as Van Helsing had most of the funny lines and business, which was the right choice, as he's just the actor to carry it off. It's only unfortunate that he doesn't appear until the flick is already an hour old.

The climax has heroes Van Helsing, Jonathan, Mina, Lucy's widower, and a couple of friends chasing Drac back to

Winona Ryder and Gary Oldman

Transylvania, where he goes because life in London became a little too "hot" for him.

Again, the filming, the costumes, the sets, and the FX were great, but Stoker's 1897 gothic story of romance, humor, eroticism, and the philosophical battle between good and evil didn't get told the way it should have.

Trust me. Don't let this turkey put the bite on your hard-earned movie money—wait until the video hits the shelves.

"Bram Stoker's Dracula" gets 2.5 out of five stars. It's rated "R"; there is some violence and nudity, but not one four-letter word. Nonetheless, the nudity would make me hesitate to take children under 16, but a lot of parents apparently didn't agree. Half the audience was under 15—some were under 12!—by JEFFREY P. BROWN

Mega-mall helps spread holiday cheer

Immersed in the Christmas spirit and the wisdom that "it is better to give than receive," Gurnee Mills holiday shoppers will have lots of chances to make the season brighter for those less fortunate.

Mega-mall shoppers may choose to drop off playthings to be distributed to disadvantaged children by the U. S. Marines Corps' Toys for Tots campaign, or select the name of an underprivileged youngster from Catholic Charities' Angel Tree and provide a special gift for that child.

Even the mall's

exquisite display of Christmas trees from "around the world" will provide interested patrons with the chance to support Lambs Farm by extending a silent bid for one of the ornately decorated trees provided by mall merchants, area businesses and local radio stations.

Gurnee Mills' holiday gift wrapping concession will be operated by the Salvation Army.

Gurnee Mills extended holiday hours will be 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., Monday through Saturday, and 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Sundays, Nov. 27 through Dec. 23.

Belize for divers and environmentalists

by JIM WARREN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

If you attended high school to 1981, you may know it as British Honduras. Belize is also the only English speaking nation in Central America.

Belize has for years attracted divers from around the world with its 175 mile long barrier reef, second in size only to the Great Barrier Reef in Australia. If the reef isn't enough, there's the mysterious "Blue Hole". This underwater cave is 1,000 feet in diameter and 480 feet deep, complete with stalagmites and stalactites.

Belize is now attracting both the environmentally conscious tourist and those seeking an alternative to "action-oriented" destinations such as Cancun.

For the environmentalists, Belize offers animal sanctuaries, jungle and pine-covered mountains.

Belize has set up a sanctuary for the threatened black howler monkeys. The property where this reserve is located is privately owned by farmers who have voluntarily agreed to limit the area they clear for crops and let stand fruit trees from which the monkeys feed.

A marine preserve was set up in 1987 where fishing and coral collection is prohibited.

Other preserves include anything from a jaguar sanctuary to a butterfly breeding ground.

Belize's concern for the environment even extends to its zoo which contains only animals that have been traded from other zoos or wild animals taken as pets and no longer wanted. No wild animals are trapped for exposition.

If you're looking for discos to party the night away, you're in the wrong place. If guest houses, Spanish colonial-style cottages and small quaint hotels (with rates of less than $50 per night) are your things, then a visit to Belize should be in your plans.

Every week, we have a special spot in our newspaper that's exactly right for that item you want to sell. If you tell us to run an ad for a car you no longer need, we place it in our CARS FOR SALE classification (No. 80). Want to buy or sell a horse? Your ad goes in classification No. 42. Why do we do it this way? Because it's easier for our readers (your customers) to find your ad. No long search, no missing your sailboat ad because it's mixed in with rummage sales. The next time you want to turn a no-longer needed item into cash, give the Lakeland Newspapers a try. You'll be in the right place.

I thought planning a funeral ahead of time was crazy. Then Jim died.

Since he had insisted, we fortunately had our plans made. We even had money put aside through a program at the funeral home. That sure made it easier for me to begin getting things together and to appreciate the many friends who came to call. There were so many other pressures that it helped not to plan a funeral. Take it from experience planning ahead is a good idea.

If you would like to know more about planning ahead, call or write us for our free booklet on funeral planning.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: Is it proper to list temporary assignments I have worked on my resume? Y.E. - Libertyville

A: Dear Y.E. If it means that you are leaving obvious gaps in your employment history and have in fact been working temporary assignments during that period of time, it would be wise to list them. You can categorize these either by listing the Company names themselves and make the notation these were long or short term assignments and enter the dates, or there are some people who prefer to enter the name of the agency they may have been employed by. Long term assignments look nice on a resume and are well accepted. Always be sure when working temporary assignments for any length of time that you ask the immediate supervisor for a letter of recommendation and if you may use them as a reference if needed. Most often they will be accommodating.

Q: Dear...Search: I called a company to schedule an interview and was given an appointment time which I was unable to keep because I had to pick up my child from school. I called the company and asked if I could reschedule the appointment at that time and they did. The next day I brought my car in to the shop to have a minor repair since my interview was not until the afternoon and low and behold when I went to pick up the car, it was not ready nor able to be driven. I once again called the company to reschedule and they said no. Don't companies understand that these situations can happen to anybody? R.F. - Waukegan

A: Dear R.F. They can, and do! However, it's not necessarily their problem. They are concerned about filling the position they have available. You are one of several people (and I use the term, several, conservatively), who have applied for the position. While you may very well have been a viable candidate, perhaps they felt the effort on your part to make it to the interview just wasn't there. In any case, plan ahead for these things that just pop up.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Get more tuned in to what associates are expecting from you in all aspects of your life. You get high on all the options, solutions and dreams. Be realistic and decide on how much you can really do.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Unfortunately you're not calling the shots this week — others are. You do know how to please and make the most of a difficult situation. Sharing is a major theme this week, as well as enjoying many fun moments.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You are one of the few signs that are focused on work this week, at best for a few days. You can't help it — you feel the lure of foreign lands, people and pleasures. Truth is, you're bored with the routine and are up for nearly anything.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You seem to be late all week, whether it's beginning a project or taking off for the ultimate romp. You do manage to make the best of it and cram in as much time as possible for socializing. Be careful, trouble could be brewing with the boss.

LEO (July 23-August 22) You are unusually quiet this week, as you sense a change in the winds. Having said and done it all (or so you think), you know something's up. Get plenty of rest whenever you can.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22) You can be found nearly anywhere and everywhere this week. Settle down and do some thinking about plans on the home front. Your more playful side is dying to emerge and does. But don't kid yourself, Virgo. You will still have to eventually deal with that financial matter.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22) Make the most of the peaceful vibrations, because your balance may soon be thrown off. Communications flow all week and you feel contented as the weekend rolls in. When you least expect it the uproar begins.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21) You charge into the week in prime form. First you play out being the financial wizard of the zodiac, only to become Ralph Nader by the weekend. Life looks peachy keen when you're with that special someone. Do be careful not to abuse your energy.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21) Look at taking some quiet time for soul-searching, stress reduction or just plain extra snoozing. You'll need it because a child or a loved one acts up this weekend. If single, check out what pops up your path.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19) Things fall far too easily into place this week. Don't think that this is an easy ride, because a surprise — and a lot of confusion — pops up on the home front. Take advantage of the good times as the weekend begins.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18) You are ready to go all week long, be it accepting an extra project at work or getting into a fun event with a friend. You do command another's respect this week and you get what you want. Consider calling it an early weekend and vanishing.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Your resourcefulness has never been so high. You come up with new ideas, get useful information, and solve many a problem. The boss smiles on you, and, by the weekend, Lady Luck gives you the 'go' with an emotional situation.

Christmas Tree Directory

Christree trees sign of tradition, hope, good will

A multicultural tradition... This year over 36 million American families will celebrate the holidays with the fragrance and beauty of a real Christmas tree.

The tree, used as a symbol of life, is a tradition older than Christianity and not exclusive to any one religion. It's a part of our holiday customs that engages not only our senses of sight, touch and smell, but also our sense of tradition, hope and good will.

Long before there was a Christmas, Egyptians brought green palm branches into their homes on the shortest day of the year in December as a symbol of life's triumph over death.

Romans adorned their homes with evergreens
during Saturnalia, a winter festival in honor of Saturnus, their god of agriculture. Druid priests decorated oak trees with golden apples for their winter solstice festivities.

In the middle ages, the Paradise tree, an evergreen hung with red apples, was the symbol of the feast of Adam and Eve held on Dec. 24.

The Christmas tree in Germany, Europe and the United States... The first recorded reference to the Christmas tree dates back to the 16th century. In Strasbourg, Germany, families both rich and poor decorated fir trees with colored paper, fruits and sweets. The retail Christmas tree lot also dates back that far—in those times, older women would sell trees harvested from nearby forests in the marketplace.

The tradition spread through Europe and was brought to the United States by German settlers and by Hessian mercenaries paid to fight in the Revolutionary War. In 1804 U.S. soldiers stationed at Fort Dearborn

(now Chicago) hauled trees from surrounding woods to their barracks at Christmas.

The popularity of the Christmas tree then pro-liferated. Charles Minnegrode introduced the custom of decorating trees in Williamsburg, Va. in 1842. In 1851, Mark Carr hauled two ox sleds loaded with trees from the Catskills to the streets of New York and opened the first retail lot in the United States.

The White House
Christmas tree... Franklin
Pierce, our 14th president, brought the Christmas tree tradition to the White House. In 1923, President
Calvin Coolidge started the National Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony
now held every year on the White House lawn.

Since 1966, members of the National Christmas Tree Association have presented a beautiful, fresh Christmas tree to the President and First Family. This tree is displayed each year in the Blue Room of the White House.

Pace sets new routes for holidays

Pace, the suburban bus service, will operate its buses on a holiday schedule on Thanksgiving Day. The holiday schedule is the same used on Sundays, and is limited to major routes which operate every day of the year.

On Nov. 27, all Pace buses will operate on their usual weekday schedule, with the exception of three routes, operated by the city of Highland Park and service to the Sears Prairie Stone Development in Hoffman Estates.

To mark the start of the holiday shopping season, Pace is making adjustments to a number of its routes to coordinate with extended hours at shopping centers. These include:

•Rte. 209 Golf Road to Woodfield Shopping Center.

•Rte. 214 Green Bay Road to Northbrook Court.

•Rte. 215 Crawford-Howard to Old Orchard Shopping Center.

•Rte. 270 Milwaukee Avenue to Golf Mill Shopping Center.

The type of adjustments, whether extended hours or extra trips, and the dates they occur, vary by route and mall hours. For complete details about Pace service on the holiday weekend or throughout the holiday shopping season, call the Pace Passenger Services Office at 364-7223, Ext. 500.

4-H'ers earn recognition

The Lake County 4-H program of the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service conducted its annual "Recognition for Excellence" award program with an ice cream social and awards ceremony at the Grayslake office.

The Chain O' Lakes 4-H Club from the Antioch area, one of the longest standing and largest clubs with 40 members and 15 leaders, was named Club of the Year.

A five-year volunteer leader of the Chain O' Lakes Club, Karen Dietrich of Lake Villa, was honored Leader of the Year at the annual leaders banquet.

Laura Huntington, a nine-year member of the Alpine 4-H Club from Lake Zurich, was selected for the Heikotter Memorial Award. Laura is the daughter of Howard and Nancy Huntington of Hawthorn Woods.

The "I Dare You" leadership went of Jonathan Aaltanen, son of Matti and Elaine Aaltanen of Gurnee.

Dream comes true: Rockets earn title shot

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

It is one of the chores Jody Swederski performs before each Richmond-Burton football game.

"We always work on punt blocks before the game. We've always gotten super-close before, just with my hands on the ball," Swederski said.

Super indeed. For it was the blocked punt which set the momentum Richmond's way. Momentum which would turn into a 16-0 halftime lead. The Rockets (10-3) held on a 16-6 win and gained a berth in the Class 2A title game. Richmond is expecting to virtually bus its entire community to Normal as the Rockets take on Moweaqua Central A&M at Hancock Stadium. The 12:30 p.m. game is at Illinois State University.

"Coach (J. Randy Hofman) says special teams are the key to the game," Swederski said. "If you don't win your special teams, you don't win the game. It was awesome. It was the best feeling," he exclaimed.

The play set up a 14-yard run around left end by quarterback Jeff Christensen. The QB tossed a two-point conversion pass to Mike Dennis for an 8-0 lead with 8:15 left in the first quarter.

Dennis did it all himself next time, scampering down the muddy sideline for 57 yards and a 14-0 Richmond lead, with 2:50 left before halftime. Christensen did the honors for the two-point conversion.

"This is a dream come true. I'm so proud of these kids. We were 2-3 and now we are playing for the state championship. That is quite an achievement," Hofman said.

The field at Aledo is on the bottom of a large hill and a week's worth of rain turned it into a quagmire.

"It was really important. Dennis's long run, he was just super. Then we sort of hung on. We played great defense just played great. Give all credit to the defense," Hofman said.

"That's the first punt we've blocked all year. We thought we could block it a couple of times. That was the key. For us to kickoff, stop em and take it in. Dennis is just a reincarnation of Gale Sayers," Hofman said.

The Rockets may not have the biggest defenders in the world, but they passed the test every time Aldeo quarterback Todd Frye went to the air. He was 21-for-33 for 174 yards with but was sacked three times. Jeff Toler led the defensive secondary with pass knockdowns.

"We did not say anything in particular about field conditions. We just hoped they stayed on their feet," Hofman said. "I told the kids at halftime, if they do score, they have to score five times to beat us. Key thing is don't let them get the extra

'It's been a goal of mine to be part of it. Now we have a chance.'

—J. Randy Hofman

Richmond's Matt Zarnstorf breaks into the clear. Zarnstorf ran for 122 yards as Richmond advanced to Class 2A state championship with 16-6 win over Aledo. Rockets battle Moweaqua Central A&M at 12:30 p.m. Nov. 27 at Hancock Stadium at Illinois State University, Normal. — Photo by Steve Peterson.

King selects college, starts strong for RL in opener

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Joy King picked a couple of pretty good girls basketball players to gain her sense of hoops values from.

At Round Lake, there was Cindy Donner, now at Northeastern Illinois University. Or maybe it was the overall court sense of a Crystal Cobb, the Warren Township High School standout who went on to play at Arizona State University.

"When I was younger, I wanted to play like Donner," King said.

Today, King is a leader in her own right. The senior guard scored 18 points and had four steals as the Panthers opened the season with a 46-39 win over Zion-Benton.

The contest was the first time scouts from Lewis College in Romeoville saw King play, and the senior signed a national letter of intent to play there that week. It was also the season opener for both teams.

"I've learned how to control the tempo of the game," King said.

King hopes to play point guard for Lewis, coached by Tracy Manura.

"She is really enthusiastic about the team," King said.

King is a track and field and tennis standout at RL, but one sport has remained a constant since her days at Village School. "Basketball is my main sport," King said.

The Panthers won 19 games last year and are defending Northwest Suburban Conference champs. "As seniors, we have played together since we were in the seventh-grade," King said.

"Ever since she came here, she has been a very good player," Panthers Coach Gary Edge said.

King's Mom always has had faith in the playmaker. "It is great to see her play. In knew she had the talent; over the last couple of years, she has shown some great improvement," Laura King said.

That includes defense.

Felcia Sartin had 10 points in the win over Zion.

Round Lake lost 44-34 to Harvard to start the season 1-1 before this weekend's Deerfield tournament, Nov. 27 and 28.

King improved her ballhandling skills by attending a camp at Lakeland College outside of Milwaukee this summer.

"Every year, she keeps getting better and better," Edge said of King, who scored 14.4 points a game last year.

On Nov. 28, Carmel and Fremd play at 6 p.m. with Warren and Waukegan closing out the tourney at 7:30 p.m. Moyer will handle the play-by-play and Pat Cameron will provide color commentary.

Hoops section coming Dec. 4

A first boys-girls combined basketball section will be published in the Dec. 4 editions. In time for the boys conference races to start up, it will appear in all Lakeland Newspapers editions.

Carmel girls on up, down ride to start new campaign

It's been a topsy-turvy start for the Carmel girls basketball team. The Corsairs all three contests have been by wide margins and the team has come out on top more often than not.

Carmel crushed Seton Academy 61-30 in non-conference play, after falling to Resurrection 69-41 and having no problem with Woodlands in a 68-41 win.

Senior Natalie Gambit has been taking up the scoring slack for the Corsairs, scoring 19 points against Woodlands and 11 against Seton from her point guard spot.

Fellow senior Kathy Brezgener had 13 points against Seton.

"Kathy has really come on strong," Carmel Coach Scott Green said.

Carmel used strong starts at the start of both halves to earn the win. Carmel led 14-4 after one quarter and an 18-1 third quarter and 17-5 fourth quarter runs made the win look easy.

"We started out sluggish against Seton - we missed a lot of fastbreak opportunities. But by the second quarter, we started to get it in gear," Green said.

Elsewhere, Lake Zurich pulled away from Wauconda to hold a second-quarter lead en route to a 51-42 win. The victory evens the Bears mark at 1-1.

Grant is 2-2 after splitting games at Harvard's tournament. The Bulldogs were overwhelmed by Hononegah 51-27 despite Erin Klein's 12 points.

The Bulldogs, paced by 19 points from Chris Rowan, had no trouble with East Troy in a 54-37 win. Vicki Nelson had 20 points, Rowan 19 as the Bulldogs led 26-14 at halftime.

Antioch notched its first win of the girls basketball season with a 52-44 win over Streamwood at the Buffalo Grove tourney.

Stevenson enjoyed a 36-8 halftime laughter and it stayed that way in a 55-38 win over Proviso West. Senior Tina Stops had 13 points, Danielle Mall 10.

Driver Egan garners top Wilmot Speedway accolade

The annual Toft Auto Racing's Night of Champions banquet honoring competitors from throughout the 1992 season at Wilmot Speedway drew a record crowd of 500 to Maravella's Restaurant in Fox Lake.

Heading the list of honorees were the 1992 Wilmot champions: Dave Moulis of Johnsburg in the sprints; Lenny Ostrowski, Jr. of North Cape in the modifieds; Dennis Kratz of Antioch in the sportsman; Romy Baus of Rubicon in the mini-sprints; and Roy Morrison of Antioch in the mini-modified. Morrison, a Wilmot sportsman champion in 1981, was the only one of the five to have won a track championship prior to '92.

A total of $28,000 was distributed among 67 qualified competitors who participated in at least 85 percent of their division's programs competed at Wilmot this season and were also Star Trac members.

"I have to thank my parents, Joe and Donna Moulis, and my crew, sponsors and everybody who helped me all along this season," said Moulis in receiving his awards which included the track champion's trophy, championship jacket, photo collage from Mike Napierala's Racing Photos as well as the point fund check. "They kept believing in me and even the night I flipped, they turned the car back over, shook me off and told me to climb back in. This is a fantastic moment."

Kratz, a 27-year-old plumber, was almost speechless in receiving his awards as he was visibly emotionally tongue-tied. "If it weren't for my dad, Ken Kratz, my girlfriend and a couple of guys who helped out on the car once in a while, I couldn't have done it," said Kratz. "I appreciate everybody's support."

"It started out as just a bunch of us guys putting the mini-modifieds together for fun," explained Morrison. "Then it grew into a five-night series and now Ray (Toft) has asked us to put some rules together which I just gave him and next year we're going to run a few more times. I'm looking forward to it."

The annual Illinois and Wisconsin Driver of the Year nominees and recipients were announced. The awards are based on a competitor's on and off the track actions as an ambassador for motorsports. The current year's champions are not eligible.

Russ Egan of Gurnee, received the Illinois award. Other nominees were John Tierney of Lake Villa, Paul Ptasienski of Gurnee, Rob Olson of Waukegan, Dave Holden of Zion and Jim Bennett of Round Lake Beach. "We've got the best sport around, auto racing, so let's just keep it going," said Egan.

Dennis Spitz of Kenosha, who campaigned in both the modified and sprint divisions this season, won the Wisconsin award sponsored by WIL Radio. Spitz won the first annual Wisconsin award in 1985. "This is the second time I've received this award and it's a great surprise and honor," said Spitz. Other Wisconsin nominees were Joe Palmisano of Franklin, Gary Dye of Geneseo, Tim Ammon of Kenosha, Tom Musgrave of Kenosha and Paul Anderson of Racine.

The Bev and Howard Kasten Rookie of the Year Award hand-carved wooden clocks which are made by Howard Kasten, one of the track push truck drivers, were presented. In the sprints, Todd Daun of Kenosha bested a field which included 18 competitors who made their first starts this year in a sprint car, 12 of which competed on a regular basis. Egan headed a similar field in the modifieds which also numbered 18. Mike Waterman of Round Lake was the top first-year sportsman competitor out of 11. In the mini-sprints and mini-mods, since it was the first year for each of the classes the rookie honors were given to the champions, Baus and Morrison, respectively.

Keith Biene of Biene Excavating of Roselle, presented a $250 bonus check to Moulis for his most fast times of the season, 12, in the sprints. Biene also announced the $50 fast time and year-end bonuses would continue to be posted for the 1993 season. "I really appreciate what Biene Excavating has done, as well as Gene Wright of J&L Oil who put up the fast mover award bonus which I won three times (totaling $2,300) also Fred Goza of Tri-City Canvas and upholstery of Wauconda who gave me a trophy for the most fast times and a fire extinguisher," said Moulis. "It means a lot and is really appreciated."

Recognition and appreciation was given by Promoter Ray Toft to all of the sponsors who contributed to the record equaling point fund, tying the mark set in 1991. Wilmot Speedway sponsors included the Wilmot Volunteer Fire Dept., Kenosha County Fair Assn., CJW Distributing of Kenosha which distributes Miller Beer products as well as Dr. Pepper, 7-Up, RC and Diet Rite; May Beverage of Kenosha which distributes Old Style; Herb's Used Auto Parts and Sales of Lake Villa; Lake Shore Harley-Davidson/Yamaha of Waukegan; Antioch Pizza Shop; Hoosier Tires; Midwest Trailer Sales of Wadsworth; the Hot Rod Shop of Wadsworth; Fox Lake Harbor; WIL Radio.

Frank's Lounge of North Chicago; J&L Oil; Biene Excavating; Tri-City

Canvas; Carl Nelson's Snap-On Tools; Winner's Edge; Auto Connection of Ingleside; Ugly Duckling Car and Truck Rental/McHenry Auto Sales; Dave's American Muffler and Brake Shop of Kenosha; Midwest Motorcoach of Gurnee; Wisconsin Fans For Auto Racing; North Chicago VFW Post 7981; Reed-Randle Ford of Waukegan; and associated sponsors Pip Printing of Antioch and Deluxe Car Wash and Car Appearance Center of Waukegan.

CLC aims for victory

College of Lake County's women's basketball team has at least half of the equation down pat when it comes to necessary ingredients to win.

"We played good defense, but offense was another story as we shot 13-for-48 for 27 percent," CLC Coach Don Zeman said of a 63-37 loss at South Suburban.

The Lancers suffered their second loss on the young season. CLC was led by Round Lake grad Christy Zink, who scored 11 points. CLC made under half of its free-throws, 10-for-24.

Antioch grad Liz Johnson and Warren product Julianne Frankowski were next with six points each. CLC trailed 32-16 at halftime.

Keeping in mind the season is still early, the Lancers will be looking for better showings on offense at the Harper Thanksgiving tournament. The Lancers face Harper at 3 p.m. Nov. 27.

CLC men find stumbling blocks in away contests

College of Lake County's men's basketball team took its show on the road, but came up short against a Chicagoland area junior college powerhouse and poor shooting did the Lancers in in the other loss.

CLC fell to South Suburban 86-69 in South

Holland before losing to Joliet 124-113 after claiming its own tournament title. CLC (3-2) is at Harper's tournament this weekend, playing Milwaukee Tech in the first round at 5:30 p.m. Nov. 27. The Lancers then face McHenry-Harper winner at 1 or 3 p.m. Nov. 28 in Palatine.

"Joliet won the region last year and they have a very good team. We played right with them but the big difference was in fouls," CLC Coach Bruce Smith said of a 124-113 loss to Joliet.

"We shot the ball well - we had 14 three-pointers and we got a small lead in the second-half," Smith said.

Eddie White continues to lead the CLC scoring punch, with 26 in the South Suburban game and 34 against the Wolves. "He hit from every place. He was four-for-four from three-points," Smith said.

Alden Bell had 25 points, Roy Gilmore 21 and David Montgomery had 12 points for CLC.

CLC was outscored 30-18 at the free-throw line.

CLC faded down the stretch in the 86-69 loss at South Suburban.

Montgomery had 18 points to go along with Eddie White's 26. Bell had 12 points to give CLC three scorers in double figures.

"We played a much better game against Joliet than South Suburban. We did not shoot the ball well and we made turnovers we should not have," Smith said. "We kind of self-destructed."

Elfering's 26 shows way as Warren girls net win

Warren Township High School's girls basketball team used an time-honored method to secure its first win.

Warren opened the basketball season with a non-conference 60-41 victory over Lake Zurich.

Warren struggled early, leading 8-5 after one. But a 29-12 run in the second quarter sealed the win. Warren led 44-25 after three.

Marlene Elfering led the way with 26 points and 11 rebounds. Erin Webster, another senior, had 10 points and 15 rebounds.

Marlene Elfering

"We put a lot of pressure on to force some turnovers in a 21-7 run," Coach Bruce Campbell said.

Warren is at the Mundelein Thanksgiving tournament this weekend, seeking its sixth straight tourney title. Warren battles McHenry at 1 p.m. Nov. 27 and Mundelein at 2:30 p.m. Nov. 28.

Against Lake Zurich, Warren shot nine-for-22 from the free-throw line, nine-for-18 for the Bears.

Keaton nets assist for LFC kicker

The Lake Forest College women's soccer team closed out the conference season on a strong note, with a 1-0 win over Lawrence University.

LFC scored quickly, as minutes into the contest midfielder Sheila Somemrs tallied on a pass from Kimberly Keaton of Lindenhurst. Goalie Kimi Kurz recorded her second shutout.

LFC lost a 1-0 battle to Beloit College. LFC is 5-7-1 overall, 5-5 in Midwest CAC matches.

Senate Bill would snatch needed resources: GCHS

One thing a visitor can do to rile up an educator is mention the numbers "1828".

That's a fighting term for area educators, who see Senate Bill 1828 as a means of taking away from an already small revenue source.

"It is like the state is taking no interest — you are on your own," Supt. Ray Novak said.

"Eighty percent of the state's students are underfunded," Novak said.

The formal opposition letter is being sent to Lake County legislators. "It (developer donation fees) are among the only hope we have. If you take that away from us, you will have nothing to work with," Novak said.

The superintendent also hit Springfield for not paying enough attention to education, even during Education Week.

Last leaf pick-up this weekend

Now that all but a few leaves have been raked and gathered, the final leaf pick-up for the village of Antioch will be this Friday and Saturday, Nov. 27 and 28. Waste Management of Antioch will make its last round-up for fall foliage during its garbage pick-up days which have been adjusted, due to the holidays.

As a reminder, there are no limits to the number of paper bags or garbage cans that may be filled with leaves and left out for pick-up by Waste Management.

Amy Prochnow selected to attend National Young Leaders Conference

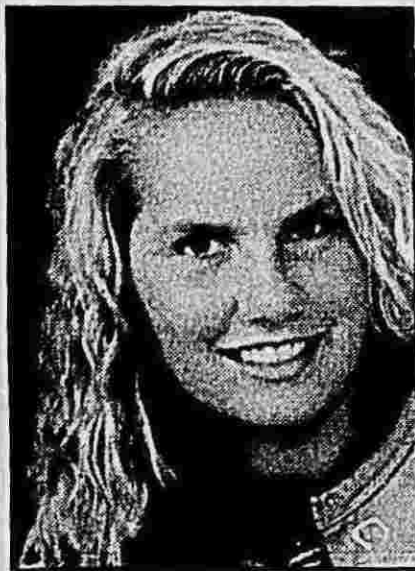

Amy Prochnow of Antioch has been selected to attend the National Young Leaders Conference from Dec. 1-6 in Washington, D.C. Having demonstrated academic achievement, leadership and citizenship, Amy will be among 350 outstanding high school students from across the nation at the conference sponsored by the Congressional Leadership Council.

The theme of the National Leaders Conference is "The Leaders of Tomorrow Meeting the Leaders of Today." Throughout the six-day conference, students will meet with key leaders and newsmakers from the three branches of government, the media and the diplomatic corps.

Highlights of the program will include welcoming remarks from a Member of Congress of the U.S. House of Representatives and a panel discussion led by prominent journalists at the National Press Club.

Prochnow is a senior at Antioch Community High School where she has played field hockey for four years and was co-captain of the varsity field hockey team this fall, was named most improved player on the varsity basketball team as a sophomore, was named all-academic, belongs to the Athletes Committed to Excellence, The National Honor Society, The

Amy Prochnow

Spanion National Honor Society and was recently named to Who's Who Among America's High School Students.

'Waitress of Year' announced by the Antioch Exchange Club

The Exchange Club of Antioch announced the awarding of the "Waitress of the Year" to Kathy Meklhorn of Struggles Restaurant for her consistent, polite and prompt service to the club. One of Meklhorn's special touches is to remember coffee and juice preferences for each regular member.

The Exchange Club of Antioch is dedicated to serving the community through promotion of the prevention of child abuse. They meet every Tuesday at Struggles Restaurant. New and prospective members are encouraged to attend.

police or talk to your school principals. You obviously don't get out much, or you're just ignoring the truth. These parents have got to face their responsibility and put a stop to this gang nonsense. How can they live under the same roof with their child and not know that he's part of a gang? The solution starts at home. Don't blame Lakeland Newspapers; don't cry racism and bigotry. Talk to your kids and find out the real facts. Go to your local schools and see what's really happening.

Treat Them Like Guests

This is in response to "Wise Up, Diners." I just want to let that person know that I've been a waitress for many years. You need to treat people as if they were guests in your home. When you do, you will get a nice tip. It doesn't matter how much the bill is. I used to wait on a man who had coffee and toast every morning. He would always leave me $2, not because the toast was good, it was because of the good service.

Keep Our Streets Clean

This is gripe is delivered to "The Advertiser" delivery person in the California subdivision. If there's something in "The Advertiser" box that don't belong in there, you settle the problem by sending the unwanted material on our streets which we try to keep clean. The proper, diplomatic way would be to take out anything in the box, put it in a bag in your vehicle, and, at the end of the day, put the bag in the garbage. This is called good will among your readers.

Serious About Gun Control

Every day I get more sick and tired of seeing more and more of our children getting killed by guns. In particular, the last few weeks in Chicago schools. This is happening all over the country. At the same time, our lawmakers are enacting laws like the ones requiring sensors on garage doors to prevent accidental closures on people. The reason for this law is because 44 deaths have occurred since 1982, which is only four per year. That's far less than what's being killed in our schools these days. When are our lawmakers going to wake up and take real measures at stopping crime, like banning handguns in Illinois. Last year, the Conference of Northeast Governors began an initiative to pressure companies to reduce waste. That is fine and good for the economy, but why can't they do something that is going to save the lives of our children, not our landfills. I'm from Libertyville.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Grayslake Community High School District 127 is accepting bids for the purchase of school busses for the 1994 school year. Specifications are available at the school after 8:00 a.m. on Monday, November 30, 1992. Bid opening will be December 11, 1992 at 11:00 a.m. in the Business Office. Contact David Bonner, Business Manager, Grayslake Community High School, 400 North Lake Street, Grayslake, IL 60030 (708) 233-8621. 1192D-258-GEN November 27, GEN

PUBLIC NOTICE ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

The North Chicago Community Unit School District No. 187 is accepting sealed bids for the Roofing Removal and Replacement Work at the South School. Lump Sum Bids will be publicly opened at the No. Chicago Community Unit School District Offices, at 2000 Lewis Ave., North Chicago, Illinois, at 9:00 a.m., Monday, December 7, 1992.

Bid security in the form of a bid bond or a certified check in an amount equal to 10 percent of the base bid shall be submitted with the bid. Both Performance and Labor & Material Payment Bonds and a Certificate of Insurance as required by the Owner will be required from the successful bidder.

The North Chicago Community Unit School District No. 187 reserves the right to reject any and all bids or parts thereof, to waive any irregularities or informalities in the bidding procedures, and to award the contract in a manner best serving the Owner's interest.

All bidders must comply with applicable Illinois Law requiring the payment of prevailing wages by all contractors working on public funded projects and bidders must comply with the Illinois Statutory requirements regarding labor including Equal Employment Opportunity Laws.

The Bidding Documents are available at the office of the Architect, Legat Architects, 8600 Route 14, Suite 205, Crystal Lake, Illinois 60012. A $100.00 refundable deposit is required for three sets of Construction Documents.

Bids shall be submitted in an opaque sealed envelope on or before the specified closing time to the North Chicago Community Unit School District No. 187, 2000 Lewis Avenue, North Chicago, Illinois 60064.

Speak English

My complaints against the Hispanics are these: I want them to learn the language. It's fine to speak Spanish in the home. But don't expect us as taxpayers to put out all of the directories, forms and signs in the stores for special help. Nobody else got that kind of help. You're not entitled either.

Be Seen At Night

When people walk down the street at night, they should wear clothes that are light colored, have reflective tape on them or carry a flashlight so they can be seen at night.

Ditto To Gang Problem

Hello. I'm from Round Lake Beach and moved here four years. I moved here because it was affordable for a single-family home. I have two things to say about the article "Problem is Hispanic Gangs." First of all, ditto. D-I-T-T-O! Secondly, if the person who wrote the article would run for office, they would have my vote. Thank you.

What's The Last Name?

This is in response to the Antioch High School parent about tryouts at their school. At least they have tryouts. At Warren High School, they have tryouts, but you only make the team depending on what your parents' last name is, not how good the kid is. At least they have a fair tryout at Antioch.

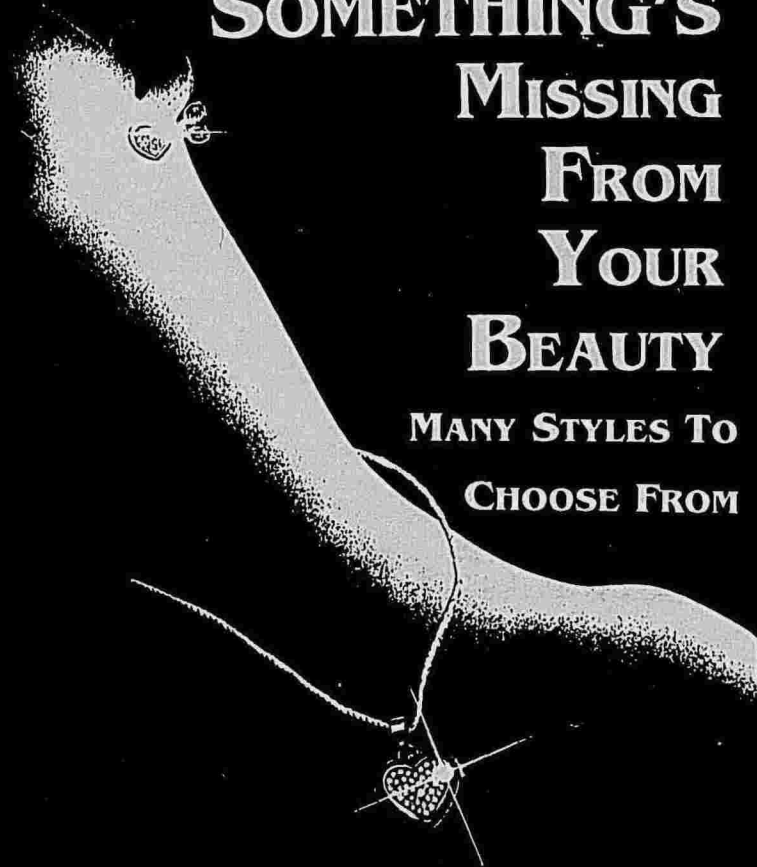

Favorites In School

In response to "You Call Those Tryouts?" Freshmen soccer tryouts are not the only place where an unfair selection process takes place. Look around. Only a select group of students chosen by faculty members are given all the honors. Open auditions and tryouts are rare, and student committees are never included in the selection process. And yes, nepotism does exist at Antioch High School.

Where's The Police?

I phoned the Fox Lake Police on Friday, Nov. 13 about a crime that happened at our establishment. I was told by the dispatcher that the lieutenant is the only one who takes care of that kind of offense. Saturday and Sunday rolled by, and still no lieutenant. So on Monday, I called again and left a message. Still, no lieutenant. I called on Tuesday and Wednesday. Still, no lieutenant. So I called the chief on Thursday and explained the problem. He, too, told me that the lieutenant is the only one who will take care of that particular type of offense. He also assured me that the lieutenant would get back to me. So, Saturday and Sunday went by. Today is Monday. Where are they? I reported a crime 11 days ago. Why does only one officer handle this type of crime. I wonder if he's sitting in the squad at the White Hen, or if he's the officer hiding in back of the Mobil. Wherever he is, and if he reads this, is there any chance that you'll be stopping by to make a report? Signed, You Know Who.
